Body Partially Clad

Freedom Divorcee, 23, Murdered By Strangler

Mother Of 2 Identified By Relatives

Victim Found Lying Face Up In Wooded Area Along Road

BEAVER FALLS — Apparently strangled to death, the partially-clad body of a 23-year-old redhead divorcee, found just off Crows' Run Rd. in New Sewickley Township Tuesday afternoon, has been identified as Mrs. Loretta Ruth Dean Schultz of Freedom R. D. 1, mother of two.

Her body was identified by her father, Hayes Dean, of Unionville Rd., New Sewickley Township, and an uncle, Howard Dean of Mulberry St., West Bridgewater, at about 2 this morning at the Gross Funeral Home in Freedom.

Sheriff John Hineman said he took the relatives to the funeral home after they flagged him down on the Rochester - Beaver Bridge while he was checking out a possibility then unknown victim was a missing West Bridgewater girl.

The father said Mrs. Schultz had been away from home since Monday. Positive identification was made from a mole on her chest. The uncle first viewed the body and identified it.

Beaver County Coroner Dr. John W. Colavincenzo said that an autopsy performed last night established no official cause of death, though he believes it was strangulation.

He said all the organs have been sent to the state police laboratory at Harrisburg for further study.

He said Mrs. Schultz, mother of children, 2 and 4, apparently was not sexually assaulted.

Sheriff Hineman said she was seen in Rochester Monday at 9 p. m.

The body was discovered by Mrs. Eva Gormley of Crows' Run Rd., who was returning home from Freedom with her two granddaughters.

She told authorities that she stopped on the road to remove an obstacle and saw something in the wooded area.

Mrs. Gormley said she thought at first it was a store model someone had thrown away. She went home and returned with her husband. They went to Freedom to notify police, but could not find an officer and were on their way to notify Conway police when they saw a man fixing his car near the scene. He too was shown the body and notified Conway police.

According to the coroner, Mrs. Schultz was wearing only a bra, blouse and white cotton socks. Shorts and panties were found about 25 feet away. The body was

U.S. Studies New Bid For A-Tests Ban

Kennedy Schedules Meeting Today To Review U.S. Plans

WASHINGTON (AP)—U.S. officials are reported considering a new bid to Russia designed to break the cycle of American and Soviet nuclear weapons testing.

One proposal reported under serious study would call for a ban on tests which cause radioactive fallout, meaning tests in the atmosphere and under water. These can be detected at great distances.

Such a ban could be policed with present detection arrangements without the necessity of setting up new, international inspection procedures inside the Soviet Union and the territory of other nuclear powers.

President Kennedy scheduled the latest in a series of nuclear test policy conferences for late this afternoon at the White House. He will go into that meeting with Secretary of State Dean Rusk, Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara and other top policy advisers immediately after his news conference.

The meeting was expected to produce decisions on U.S. moves in the nuclear test negotiations being carried on at the 17-nation Geneva disarmament conference.

The United States has substantially completed its series of atmospheric and high altitude tests over the central Pacific which began last spring. Underground tests begun earlier have been continued in Nevada.

The Soviet government, which resumed testing late last year after a worldwide moratorium of almost three years, has announced its intention to hold a new round of nuclear experiments.

Policy problems before the President and his advisers were authoritatively reported to fall into two groups.

First there are the problems growing out of new scientific advances in the detection and identification of underground nuclear explosions such as would be prohibited by a treaty ban on all nuclear weapons tests.

The United States is expected to present the new scientific data at the disarmament conference and find out whether Russia will agree to negotiate on an inspection on Soviet territory. The Soviet Union has opposed such inspection.

The other problems grow out of this Soviet rejection of inspection proposals. A general review of U.S. policy has led some officials to ask whether it would not be advisable to try for a partial test ban if a total treaty prohibition continues to prove unobtainable.

Faubus Wins Fifth Term In Arkansas

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—Gov. Orval E. Faubus, soft-pedaling the integration issue which spread his name around the world, swept to an unprecedented fifth term in Arkansas' Democratic primary Tuesday.

Faubus, who in 1957-58 became a symbol of resistance to the U.S. Supreme Court's desegregation order, said his reelection proved Arkansas does not want an extremist in the governor's chair.

The role of moderate was a new one for Faubus who courted segregationist votes and got them in waves in 1958 and 1960.

In this campaign he handed the segregationist banner to Rep. Dale Alford and pinned an integrationist label on former Gov. Sid McMath. Alford and McMath waged a spirited but meaningless battle for second place among Faubus' five opponents.

Sen. J. William Fulbright easily won nomination to a fourth term over Winston Chandler, a Little Rock businessman.

Returns from 2,029 of 2,348 precincts gave Faubus 152,332 votes to 134,041 for the combined opposition. Alford got 57,450, McMath 55,817, businessman Vernon Whitten 14,636, attorney Kenneth Coffelt 4,409 and farmer David A. Cox 1,646.

An anticipated heavy vote failed to materialize. Although the Faubus victory trend was established early, he lost strength from 1960 when he polled 58.7 per cent of a record 407,183 votes.

Faubus showed 52.5 per cent of the incomplete vote.

All five opponents made the fifth term the overriding issue, warning that the threat of dictatorship was inherent in retaining Faubus.

Both Faubus and Fulbright will have Republican opposition in November, but Arkansas has not elected a Republican to a major office since Reconstruction.

Elderly Man Beaten, Left Lying Along Road

A 71-year-old Wellsville man who said he was beaten and robbed by a group of men and thrown from a car south of Lisbon was treated early this morning at City Hospital for a laceration of the head.

Columbiana County sheriff's deputies said Tony Colltisa of 12th St., Wellsville, was found lying along the Old Steubenville Pike about four miles south of Lisbon.

The Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon earlier had received a report of a man lying along the road and conducted a search for him. Deputies were continuing an investigation late this morning.

Plan To Drop Ticket Taxes Splits Council

First Reading Given Repeal Measure In Special Meeting

Council split, 5-2, Tuesday night on an ordinance to repeal the 3 per cent city amusement tax, giving the measure only the first of three required readings.

Councilmen Frank Duffy and Floyd Murray, both Democrats, opposed the repeal measure at a special session, but Murray indicated he may switch his vote later, depending upon public opinion.

The ordinance was supported by Councilmen Robert W. Sample Jr., George E. Willshaw, S. James Welch and Kenneth C. Berg, all Republicans, and Edward Massey, the third Democratic member.

There was a sharp exchange in debate between Duffy and Sample before the measure came to the final vote.

Duffy declared that "it is amusing to me that you want to cut taxes."

"All you've done since I've been here is put on taxes and you've rammed the income tax down the peoples' throat for the fourth time," Duffy continued. "This tax produces $6,000 a year, according to the auditor's statement. I'd like to know more about it. This Council has passed the income tax again and put on a sewer tax."

"That doesn't have anything to do with it," Sample interrupted.

Duffy continued to talk, President Charles N. Edwards rapped for order and Sample muttered in a lower voice again: "That doesn't have anything to do with it. You don't know anything about it."

"I know as much about it as you do," Duffy responded before resuming his seat.

Willshaw was next to speak. He is chairman of the finance committee, which recommended the repeal.

"I feel this tax is unfair and it should have been taken off years ago," Willshaw said. "Most other Ohio cities already have repealed it."

"The PTA's bat their brains out to make money and then they have to pay this tax," Berg said. "It applies to high school basketball and football tickets, too."

"I think it will help the theaters," Sample said. "If they don't get some relief, they may go out of business. They can use a little aid. Most other cities in this part

3 Key Figures Seek Peace In Algerian Rift

Political Dispute May End Shortly As Result Of Meeting

ALGIERS (AP)—Three of Algeria's feuding politicians—one just back from military arrest—conferred today in the former French administrative headquarters in an effort to patch up their dispute.

Deputy Premier Mohammed Boudiaf, released by guerrilla troops who had held him in eastern Algeria for 24 hours, joined Deputy Premier Belkacem Krim to meet Mohammed Khider, a special envoy of dissident Deputy Premier Ahmed Ben Bella.

They talked for three hours in what Khider called an atmosphere of "understanding, serenity and fraternity" and emerged beaming. They hinted the political crisis was coming to an end.

Acting as spokesman for the group, Khider told newsmen another meeting will be held Thursday and he hopes it will be the last "before we can announce a definite solution for which the entire Algerian nation is waiting."

Assisting at the meeting was Col. Mohand Ould Hadj, commander of the Berber-inhabited Kabylie military zone constituting the main opposition to Ben Bella's quest for power.

Compromise Fails

Senators Block Filibuster Truce

WASHINGTON (AP)—Two Republican Senators torpedoed a compromise solution for breaking off a Democratic filibuster over the administration's satellite bill, leaving the next move of the Senate leadership up in the air.

The truce plan backed by both Democratic and Republican leaders, was smashed Tuesday night after a long day of flaring tempers, denunciations and apologies.

Sen. Mike Mansfield of Montana, the Democratic leader, had the filibustering Democrats seemingly ready to agree to a 10-day referral of the bill to the Senate Foreign Relations Committee. This would have given the Senate time to work on other business before the bill came up again.

However, in order to pass the move had to have unanimous consent. Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., objected.

A short time later a similar attempt was made. This time Sen. John G. Tower, R-Tex., objected.

The frustrated Democratic leader then recessed the Senate until noon to allow committees to catch up with a backlog of hearings. They have been unable to meet while the filibuster has been going on.

Sen. Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, the Republican leader, had joined Mansfield in proposing the 10-day referral motion with instructions for the Foreign Relations Committee to report the bill back by Aug. 10. He suggested another try for an agreement might be made when tempers cooled.

The truce plan ran into a buzzsaw of Republican protests that the 10-day interval might give Democrats a chance to ram through a bitterly disputed farm aid bill.

Mansfield said he would oppose such an effort but told the Republicans he could not guarantee the effort would not be made.

Mansfield and Dirksen still were armed with a debate-limiting cloture petition for use if necessary.

Under it, the Senate would have to vote within 48 hours after its introduction. Two-thirds of those voting would have to approve the debate limitation.

A number of Republicans, including Goldwater and Tower, urged the leaders to wear down Sens. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., Estes Kefauver, D-Tenn., and the other filibusterers by holding round-the-clock sessions.

The group of Democratic liberals object to the bill's purpose of setting up a privately-owned, government-regulated corporation to operate a global space communications system.

They contend it would be a giveaway of tax money spent on space research.

Voting Slated On Fire Levy

Ballot Place Asked At Nov. 6 Election

Council gave unanimous approval Tuesday night to a resolution asking the County Election Board for a ballot place at the Nov. 6 general election for a vote on renewal of the 1-mill firemen's levy, which produces about $40,000 a year.

The levy would be in effect five years, beginning with the tax year 1963—the 1964 calendar year.

The levy produces more than 33 per cent of the fire department's annual operating expense, which this year totals $148,000. It has been in effect approximately 30 years, renewed every five years by the electorate.

The resolution points out that the 1-mill levy amounts to a tax of 10 cents on each $100 of property valuation. It directs Clerk Lawrence J. Zollinger to certify a copy to the Election Board.

The resolution was enacted without comment at a special session that got under way at 11:30 p. m. The unusually late starting time was chosen in order to assure the attendance of several members who were working afternoon shifts, President Charles N. Edwards explained.

Britain And Malaya Set New Federation

LONDON (AP) — Britain and Malaya agreed Tuesday night to create a federation of Malaysia, a nation of 10 million people stretching in an 1,800-mile crescent around the South China Sea.

The federation will embrace the present Federation of Malaya, the semi-independent island state of Singapore and the British Borneo territories of Brunei, Sarawak and North Borneo.

No target date was announced for completion of the federation.

Ruling's Due In Bid To Shut East End Club

Testimony About Ended In Hearing Before Judge Sharp

A ruling is expected later today by Common Pleas Judge Joel H. Sharp at Lisbon on a state request to padlock the Veterans Social Club of Pennsylvania Ave. as testimony neared completion in the hearing at Lisbon.

Judge Sharp, who visited the East End club for an on-the-spot inspection Tuesday afternoon, has heard conflicting testimony regarding the state's contention the club is a "public nuisance" during the sessions of the hearing.

The "padlock action" request was filed by County Prosecutor G. William Brokaw, who seeks to have the club closed for a year.

This morning's session, due to begin at 9:30 was delayed for an hour because of the late arrival of Atty. Hugo Alexander, counsel for Sam Johnson of Pennsylvania Ave., club proprietor.

In Tuesday's testimony, several city police officers said the club was no noisier than some other taverns and clubs in East Liverpool.

Acting Lt. Charles Tice, who resides two blocks from the club, said he believes, from his observations, the club is no more noisy than any other club.

Patrolman Robert Duffy, desk man, said a complaint about the club has been received from the same East End neighbor of the club for the past several years.

Lt. W. E. McDaniel testified he

Aluminum Workers Strike At 22 Plants

ST. LOUIS (AP)—A dispute over automation led to a strike by about 16,000 workers today against the nation's two largest producers of aluminum.

The AFL-CIO Aluminum Workers International Union began picketing 10 Aluminum Co. of America plants and 12 Reynolds Aluminum plants at about 12:30 a.m.

Negotiators for the two firms and the union were still in session here when their contracts expired at midnight. As the strike began Robert W. Donnahoo of Philadelphia, regional director of the Federal Mediation Service, said "the Aluminum Workers International Union rejected the companies' proposal."

No further contract talks were scheduled.

City Of Toronto Is Named In $200,000 Arrest Suit

CHICAGO (AP) — A former tackle for the Chicago Bears professional football team has filed a $200,000 damage suit against the city of Toronto, Ohio, and a Toronto theater owner—charging false arrest and damage to his reputation.

The suit was filed Tuesday in U. S. District Court by Lee Artoe, 43, now a Chicago real estate man and part owner of a firm which sells and services motion picture projectors. He played for the Chicago Bears in the 1940s.

Artoe claims that on Nov. 15, 1960, a Toronto theater owner, George A. Manos, refused to pay for servicing Artoe had done to the theater's movie equipment.

The suit charges that Manos threatened to have Artoe arrested if he did not leave town. Later, in his hotel room, Artoe charges he was arrested and held overnight in the city jail.

He said in his suit he was convicted by a Toronto police magistrate on a charge of disorderly conduct. A county appellate court reversed the decision, the suit said.

Artoe claims his reputation was damaged as a result of the incident.

Ballot Place Asked At Nov. 6 Election

Council gave unanimous approval Tuesday night to a resolution asking the County Election Board for a ballot place at the Nov. 6 general election for a vote on renewal of the 1-mill firemen's levy, which produces about $40,000 a year.

The levy would be in effect five years, beginning with the tax year 1963—the 1964 calendar year.

The levy produces more than 33 per cent of the fire department's annual operating expense, which this year totals $148,000. It has been in effect approximately 30 years, renewed every five years by the electorate.

The resolution points out that the 1-mill levy amounts to a tax of 10 cents on each $100 of property valuation. It directs Clerk Lawrence J. Zollinger to certify a copy to the Election Board.

The resolution was enacted without comment at a special session that got under way at 11:30 p. m. The unusually late starting time was chosen in order to assure the attendance of several members who were working afternoon shifts, President Charles N. Edwards explained.

Britain And Malaya Set New Federation

LONDON (AP) — Britain and Malaya agreed Tuesday night to create a federation of Malaysia, a nation of 10 million people stretching in an 1,800-mile crescent around the South China Sea.

The federation will embrace the present Federation of Malaya, the semi-independent island state of Singapore and the British Borneo territories of Brunei, Sarawak and North Borneo.

No target date was announced for completion of the federation.

Ruling's Due In Bid To Shut East End Club

Testimony About Ended In Hearing Before Judge Sharp

A ruling is expected later today by Common Pleas Judge Joel H. Sharp at Lisbon on a state request to padlock the Veterans Social Club of Pennsylvania Ave. as testimony neared completion in the hearing at Lisbon.

Judge Sharp, who visited the East End club for an on-the-spot inspection Tuesday afternoon, has heard conflicting testimony regarding the state's contention the club is a "public nuisance" during the sessions of the hearing.

The "padlock action" request was filed by County Prosecutor G. William Brokaw, who seeks to have the club closed for a year.

This morning's session, due to begin at 9:30 was delayed for an hour because of the late arrival of Atty. Hugo Alexander, counsel for Sam Johnson of Pennsylvania Ave., club proprietor.

In Tuesday's testimony, several city police officers said the club was no noisier than some other taverns and clubs in East Liverpool.

Acting Lt. Charles Tice, who resides two blocks from the club, said he believes, from his observations, the club is no more noisy than any other club.

Patrolman Robert Duffy, desk man, said a complaint about the club has been received from the same East End neighbor of the club for the past several years.

Lt. W. E. McDaniel testified he

Aluminum Workers Strike At 22 Plants

ST. LOUIS (AP)—A dispute over automation led to a strike by about 16,000 workers today against the nation's two largest producers of aluminum.

The AFL-CIO Aluminum Workers International Union began picketing 10 Aluminum Co. of America plants and 12 Reynolds Aluminum plants at about 12:30 a.m.

Negotiators for the two firms and the union were still in session here when their contracts expired at midnight. As the strike began Robert W. Donnahoo of Philadelphia, regional director of the Federal Mediation Service, said "the Aluminum Workers International Union rejected the companies' proposal."

No further contract talks were scheduled.

City Of Toronto Is Named In $200,000 Arrest Suit

CHICAGO (AP) — A former tackle for the Chicago Bears professional football team has filed a $200,000 damage suit against the city of Toronto, Ohio, and a Toronto theater owner—charging false arrest and damage to his reputation.

The suit was filed Tuesday in U. S. District Court by Lee Artoe, 43, now a Chicago real estate man and part owner of a firm which sells and services motion picture projectors. He played for the Chicago Bears in the 1940s.

Artoe claims that on Nov. 15, 1960, a Toronto theater owner, George A. Manos, refused to pay for servicing Artoe had done to the theater's movie equipment.

The suit charges that Manos threatened to have Artoe arrested if he did not leave town. Later, in his hotel room, Artoe charges he was arrested and held overnight in the city jail.

He said in his suit he was convicted by a Toronto police magistrate on a charge of disorderly conduct. A county appellate court reversed the decision, the suit said.

Artoe claims his reputation was damaged as a result of the incident.

The Blue Eagle Loved It

Running strongly through the General Electric Co.'s statement on settlement of its litigation with the federal government over price-fixing was this significant theme:

The company hoped it might be permitted to get back to its main task, which is "to bring outstanding values to the nation's electricity users."

This is how General Electric built its business. This is the basis of its reputation. It and the other companies that have given the United States pre-eminence in the use of electricity to multiply the impact of human effort did not foresee the legal complications that would accompany their efforts to run successful businesses.

Price fixing? What is it?

By one of those switches of perspective that come easy to people who look at everything while standing on their heads, the thing called price-fixing when it happens in the United States—the thing called a criminal conspiracy here—is standard practice in the socialist countries the upside-downers admire.

UNDER systems dominated by government there is no thought of competition between and among the component parts of the same industry. It has been largely forgotten now, but there would have been no thought of competition among component parts of the same industry in the United States if the National Recovery Act had not been ruled unconstitutional by the U.S. Supreme Court in the '30s.

The United States, too, would have operated under a cartel system. Industrial management would have consulted together with the government's blessing, to split up the available market and what prices to charge.

There would have been no effort wasted on competition. It would have been assumed here, as it has been assumed by European producers for generations, that the purpose of industrialism is to serve the societies that support the industries and that government is responsible for helping them to do this with as little lost motion as possible.

NRA, an idea borrowed from socialism, was thrown out by the Supreme Court in 1935, a little less than two years after it had been foisted on a country that didn't understand its implications.

It is historic irony that so many people now applauding the government for lambasting price-fixing are the sons and daughters of men and women hell-bent on socialism in the first New Deal.

Perhaps they don't understand it any better than they understood the other.

What Was It Barnum Said?

Quit Scaring U.S.

By David Lawrence

Change In Business Psychology Suggested

The spectacle of a president of the United States watching over the country's business mechanism as if it were a sick patient and waiting for the opportune moment to administer or withhold an economic hypodermic, is, psychologically at least, a strange one. It could prolong rather than cure the illness. The argument about whether to ask Congress to grant a tax cut now or next January ignores the realities. The theory back of a tax reduction is that the money saved by the taxpayer would be used to spur spending. But the truth is that people in the aggregate have plenty of money today which they could spend if they weren't scared—lots of it in savings banks and lots of it in surpluses in corporations.

David Lawrence

The real trouble is a widespread fear that savings will be depleted and cash accumulations drained if business gets worse and if what's ailing business isn't soon remedied.

The nation doesn't really need a general tax cut, either for individuals or corporations, though there are some glaring inequitities that should be promptly removed.

A business making $1 million a year today pays the U.S. Treasury $520,000 in taxes and retains $480,000. If, by the cut in tax rates now being suggested for corporations, the rate was to go from 52 per cent to 48 per cent, it would mean that the same business would retain $520,000, and the government would get $480,000.

This would represent a net gain for the above business of exactly $40,000. Ask any businessman which he would rather have — a gain of only $40,000, or a rise of about $240,000 in net profits — and he will quickly choose the larger sum.

How could he get that extra $240,000? If business conditions improved and his sales rose so that his profits were $1½ million a year, he would have an additional net after taxes of $240,000 without any change whatsoever in tax rates.

INCREASED VOLUME of sales is a much more important factor than a tax cut. The latter could conceivably diminish public confidence because of the big treasury deficit that would be incurred.

It could bring an array of new and perhaps more acute problems as the finances of the United States come under the sharp scrutiny of the outside world, especially because the dollar is in serious trouble anyway.

What then is the alternative if there is to be no general tax cut?

The answer is for the Kennedy administration and factional groups in Congress to stop doing the things that have undermined confidence and to give assurance that such a reversal would not be temporary but permanent.

What are some of the things that need to be done? Here are a few:

Stop tampering with the normal and natural processes of the free enterprise system and leave it to Moscow to argue for government ownership or the suppression of private incentive as a way of life.

Recent speeches by so-called "liberal" Democrats during the filibuster in the Senate espousing government ownership of communications projects in the air have alarmed investors, who see this as a movement hostile to private business.

Stop asking for the election of more "liberals" who want the government to take over and run the country.

Stop the flow of gobbledygook on "guidelines" for wage and price increases. If prices or wages are to be regulated by the government, it's better to set up a wage-price board under federal law.

STOP USING antitrust laws to harass business and start getting laws that will do away with monopolistic power exercised by either big unionism or big business.

Stop interfering with the operations of American businesses in Europe which are bringing back hundreds of millions of dollars a year in tax revenue, and stop telling them they cannot use their earnings for reinvestment. Competing businesses owned by the British and other Europeans are permitted to do so by their respective governments.

Stop scaring promoters of free enterprise. Make them feel they have a future and that investors have a better-than-even chance of getting their money back at a profit if they now lay long-range plans based on the natural growth of America's population and the inevitable triumphs that efficiency can bring in a self-stabilizing economy.

There is nothing wrong with the economic situation currently that can't be corrected by a change in business psychology brought about by a conservative-minded president and a conservative-minded Congress elected in November.

Conservatism today primarily means to conserve the free enterprise system as against those who would undermine it and perhaps unwittingly destroy it.

One Thing About The Congo

If the United States is planning to get tougher about forcing Katanga Province to join the central government of the Congo Republic, one thing can be predicted with complete certainty:

Its throat will be cut by its allies. There will be so many willing accomplices for this deed that they will have to stand in line to draw knives. There simply is no international steam behind this country's drive to unify the Congo Republic by putting pressure on secessionist Katanga Province.

Even among its own citizens there is only half-hearted support for its position, and among many citizens there is overt opposition. These people regard Katanga secession as a blow to communism, on the unprovable claim that the central government of the Congo is dominated by communists. This gives rise to the further supposition that the United Nations must be communistic because it is supporting the central government, though the fact is that the United Nations is trying to unify the Congo to keep communists from moving into its troubled politics and setting up another outpost.

As for the allies of the United States—its peacetime allies—their motive is to refrain from doing anything to hasten final collapse of the credo that white men must bear the burden of government in Africa. The idea dies hard. Katanga is a last hope.

Britain, Belgium, France and the Soviet Union have found themselves in full disagreement with the United States in the past. Their accord will be fully as vindictive if the Kennedy administration again throws its support to the U.N. position.

They have no solution to the problem of chaos in the Congo, but they can agree that the United States should be harassed and reviled for trying to find a solution. It is as solid an example of negativism as has come to attention since the dog in the manger.

Greece Faces Rough Going

By Victor Riesel

CAPE SOUNION, GREECE

High above me is the Temple of Poseidon, known better as Neptune. Before me is his blue calm sea. At hand is the terrace restaurant to which Prime Minister Karamanlis took Jackie Kennedy to lunch some time after Lord Byron carved his initials on one of the columns. Behind me on a little traveled highway is a string of villages. Americans rarely come to these villages. More's the pity.

Victor Riesel

In these narrow towns reaching between vineyards and shepherds, along the crowded main streets where they roast chunks of lamb on a spit and boil corn for sale, but offer them to Americans as a sign of friendship, is a great story.

Here are people who are our friends, unreservedly and uniquely in a day when the great international game has switched from pulling the British lion's tail to pulling Uncle Sam's whiskers.

After talking with these folks in the hinterland and with overburdened members of Prime Minister Karamanlis' cabinet, I learned they will give us whatever we ask. Though under sharp attack by the Kremlin the Greeks, for example, have permitted NATO, mainly us, to build what can become a vital launching base in Crete.

GREEKS HAVE DIED in open and underground wars against Communist troops. At least 140 anti - Communist labor leaders were killed by Communist guerrillas.

And how do we repay this rocky land, whose people are as warm and embracing to Americans as their eternal sun? We cut off a meager $20 million in aid, but continue to ship scores of millions to Yugoslavia.

I'm no diplomat. Nor do I know anything about gold. But as a reporter I tell you that we may cut down our struggling ally, whose people have an average per capita income of $350 a year.

The Greeks, bordering on three Communist countries, spend over $159 million on their army—to protect a frontier which really is our frontier too. Without our aid the government will be forced to cut down its efforts to raise the standard of living of its eight million people.

THAT'S WHAT the Communists await. On the borders, just inside the Communist lands, are 100,000 Greek Communists eager to return and attempt to seize power. Inside Greece, according to the highest possible authority here, there are some 800,000 hard - core Communists. They have a following of some 400,000 others.

Not a day goes by that the Communist underground, directed by the exiled Greek Communist party headquarters in Bucharest and by the Soviet Embassy here, doesn't get some funds, some directive to try to cut down our ally.

Intelligence sources here know that some of the Communist labor leaders slip into the Soviet Embassy at least two or three times a week. They slip out with money and instructions. They use their funds effectively.

With typical Communist strategy they have infiltrated the machinists, the metal mining field, the utility and power plants and the fish trade. If they can successfully cripple these with some future strike, our friends might have to use troops to keep the nation going.

The Russian propaganda apparatus would then make a global outcry against "maltreatment" of workers. If the government economic recovery program has to be slashed because we cut them off from a mere $20 million, the Communist unions may yet find new strength.

AS THE PRESSURE builds from the inside, the Soviets put the squeeze on from without. This they do in part through what they say is a radio transmitter hidden inside Greece. It isn't. It has its studios in Bulgaria (Sofia) and Moscow. Called the "Voice of Truth" it beams six to eight hours of propaganda a day to Greece. There is no television here. So radio is the thing.

Despite this the Greek government tries to purify its democracy — and here is where the word was created so many centuries back. The government is revoking the emergency restrictive laws passed 15 years ago during the brutal Communist guerrilla invasion.

The last of the detention camps (on the island of Ayios Efstra has been holding 178 dangerous Communists. Now the government is releasing 159. The other 19 will be sent to small towns on the mainland. There they will be free to move about but will be kept under surveillance.

The government feels secure because it has more men under arms in proportion to its population than any other NATO land.

It appears wrong to me that a land such as this, ready to fight on all fronts against the powerful lands and underground forces to the north, should be cut off from what, by our money standards, are truly a few pennies. Why? We don't have that many devoted friends.

Royal Academy Can't Lose

All over Britain for the last few months, posters have been urging patriots to help save a charcoal drawing by Leonardo da Vinci for the mother country. The drawing belongs to the Royal Academy, a private organization, and was to have been offered for sale to raise money.

That was the first oddity; that the Royal Academy was willing to sell its most valuable possession. The second oddity was the assumption the buyer would be from the United States and that this would be a blow to British pride.

The third oddity was the Royal Academy's appeal to the government to save the drawings for the Royal Academy — for government intercession to save a private organization from having to sell an asset to raise money and thereby stay clear of government help.

The fourth oddity was the slowness of public response to the Royal Academy's appeal to British national pride. With a fortnight to go, scarcely more than half the total had been subscribed. And what was the total? It was the Royal Academy's estimate of what it needed to put itself on a firm financial footing.

It used to be said of the British that they "muddled through," paying scant attention to logic, proprieties and rules. They had a genius for doing what needed to be done and not for worrying about it while doing it.

Their preoccupation was preservation.

Long live the Royal Academy, now in the process of raising $2,300,000 to keep itself out of government hands. It can't lose.

Name-Dropping

That Texas court of inquiry which has been gingerly touching the Billy Sol Estes scandal put a tentative finger on a sensitive spot before it closed the store last week.

It brought out testimony indicating that the Estes confidence game relied heavily on name-dropping. Among the names he dropped were some of the biggest ones in Texas politics. Then there were those pictures on his office wall of some of the biggest names in the Democratic party.

The victims of his confidence game, including some who were loving every minute of it because they were just as crooked in their thoughts as Estes himself, were impressed. They figured that a man with so much influence in high places must be a sure bet to pick up the marbles. Ultimately, the question is going to be whether the owners of the names Billy Sol dropped knew what he was doing and what, if anything, they did to discourage him.

Unequal Pay

By Truman Twill

No lady who knows her way around will flutter at the news that Congress is monkeying with equal pay for equal work.

The boys will go no further than monkeying, which is why ladies who know their way around will play the proposal cool.

There will be equal pay for equal work in this country between men and women when women control the payrolls. No matter what laws may be passed, practice will continue to be what it is now and always has been, with few exceptions.

The few exceptions have been in matriarchies — civilizations in which authority was held by women, instead of men. There still are matriarchies in remote places.

There could be a matriarchy right here in the United States, because things are headed in that direction and may not get headed off in time to save male supremacy.

Here and there the women have broken through already. Some enterprises already have come under female control; in these instances you can be darned sure the girls aren't complaining about their pay checks relative to the boys' checks. It's the other way around.

The point to inequality in pay is that no one knows how to eliminate inequality in work. There are chowderheads who bleat that there shouldn't be any differences between the sexes, but those of us who have thought this through more carefully regard the differences highly and make the most of them.

If we had a chance to run a payroll we'd put the matter on a sensible basis and give equal pay for equal quality. If we could find a male secretary who could be as nice to have around the premises as the doll we'd hire otherwise, we'd give him equal pay. Fair enough?

Or if it turned out that airplane passengers would rather have college boys taking care of them than marriageable young ladies, we'd switch to air hosts and ditch the hostess system. OK?

We would pay men what we thought they were worth.

We'd pay what we thought the girls were worth, too.

If equal pay for equal work was the rule we'd carry it through to the end. To draw the same pay employes would be expected to produce the same results.

No laws would be needed for that! We need laws only when fools try to enforce something unnatural and senseless like paying everybody the same to prove there is no discrimination.

All that's proved is the contrary — that the aim is to discriminate against the best workers, be they male or female, so the poorest ones will get what they don't deserve.

Which is that much more reason no lady who knows her way around will flutter at the news that Congress is monkeying with equal pay.

We'll have equal pay when everybody has equal ability to perform the same work. In the meantime, except for places where the best workers are discriminated against for the benefit of the worst ones, we'll have unequal pay for unequal workers — and women will get the worst of the deal because they control so few payrolls.

China Clings To Past

By Hedley Rhodes

HONG KONG

In all their years of trying to reeducate, reform and reshape the Chinese masses, modern Chinese revolutionaries — both Mao Tse-tung's Communists and Chiang Kai-shek's Nationalists—have succeeded in giving China and its people a new look.

But much of what seems modern in China today is so only on the surface. Despite five decades of revolutionary influence, old thoughts and old ways maintain a strong hold on Chinese everywhere.

Some years ago the Chinese Communists passed a new marriage law designed to abolish the "evils of feudal marriage practices" and end the "tyranny" of the mother - in - law over girls forced into arranged marriages.

More recently during the establishment of the commune system, the Communists announced plans to break up the old feudal family system and liberate women from the drudgery of household chores so they could contribute to socialist production.

Children were to be placed in state schools and educated in a love of communism. Western and Chinese Nationalist critics immediately branded the move a plot to destroy the "traditional human values" in Chinese society.

PERHAPS this was the intention, but Chinese Communist publications themselves now tell how far the earlier propaganda tides have ebbed.

China Youth Magazine, the official agitator and counsellor for young Communist hopefuls, recently carried a letter from young Mrs. Wang Tung-man asking: "Comrade Editor, is a daughter - in - law obliged to support her father - and - mother-in-law?"

The editor replied with a strong affirmative. "It is compulsory and dutiful for a daughter-in-law to respect and support her father-and mother-in-law. . . it has always been a traditional practice in our country for a son and his wife to support his parents. Although tradition is now law, it has moral force. This force is sometimes more powerful than law."

In Canton's Southern Daily, young Chen Hung-ting wrote to the "Comrade Editor," telling how his sweetheart student Liu Mu-hsueh's "mother strongly opposed our marriage, saying that the Liu and Chen families could not be united in wedlock and that my income was small."

Chen, having outlined the situation, ended: "Please give me your suggestion and help me out of this unfavorable situation and fulfill my beautiful wish."

The editor assured Chen his problem was, "a very simple matter judging from legal provisions, and putting kinship feelings aside," then went on to caution that, "this intimate kinship between parents and their children is very natural and readily understandable."

The editor advised Chen that, while "marriages arranged according to feudal practices and established customs to uphold parently dignity and authority at the expense of children's interests . . . are few and far between," they still take place. "Therefore, although parents' views are not always acceptable, they are not to be discarded lightly.

THE EDITOR points out that Chen and his sweetheart were both young and "need not be too anxious to get married right away," and suggested, "why not wait for some time and get more ideological work done in respect of the elderly lady? Since the ideological transformation of old people especially requires a certain length of time, try not to be too anxious in making demands of her."

The Blue Eagle Loved It

Running strongly through the General Electric Co.'s statement on settlement of its litigation with the federal government over price-fixing was this significant theme:

The company hoped it might be permitted to get back to its main task, which is "to bring outstanding values to the nation's electricity users."

This is how General Electric built its business. This is the basis of its reputation. It and the other companies that have given the United States pre-eminence in the use of electricity to multiply the impact of human effort did not foresee the legal complications that would accompany their efforts to run successful businesses.

Price fixing? What is it?

By one of those switches of perspective that come easy to people who look at everything while standing on their heads, the thing called price-fixing when it happens in the United States—the thing called a criminal conspiracy here—is standard practice in the socialist countries the upside-downers admire.

UNDER systems dominated by government there is no thought of competition between and among the component parts of the same industry. It has been largely forgotten now, but there would have been no thought of competition among component parts of the same industry in the United States if the National Recovery Act had not been ruled unconstitutional by the U.S. Supreme Court in the '30s.

The United States, too, would have operated under a cartel system. Industrial management would have consulted together with the government's blessing, to split up the available market and what prices to charge.

There would have been no effort wasted on competition. It would have been assumed here, as it has been assumed by European producers for generations, that the purpose of industrialism is to serve the societies that support the industries and that government is responsible for helping them to do this with as little lost motion as possible.

NRA, an idea borrowed from socialism, was thrown out by the Supreme Court in 1935, a little less than two years after it had been foisted on a country that didn't understand its implications.

It is historic irony that so many people now applauding the government for lambasting price-fixing are the sons and daughters of men and women hell-bent on socialism in the first New Deal.

Perhaps they don't understand it any better than they understood the other.

Quit Scaring U.S.

By David Lawrence

Change In Business Psychology Suggested

The spectacle of a president of the United States watching over the country's business mechanism as if it were a sick patient and waiting for the opportune moment to administer or withhold an economic hypodermic, is, psychologically at least, a strange one. It could prolong rather than cure the illness. The argument about whether to ask Congress to grant a tax cut now or next January ignores the realities. The theory back of a tax reduction is that the money saved by the taxpayer would be used to spur spending. But the truth is that people in the aggregate have plenty of money today which they could spend if they weren't scared —lots of it in savings banks and lots of it in surpluses in corporations.

David Lawrence

The real trouble is a widespread fear that savings will be depleted and cash accumulations drained if business gets worse and if what's ailing business isn't soon remedied.

The nation doesn't really need a general tax cut, either for individuals or corporations, though there are some glaring inequitities that should be promptly removed.

A business making $1 million a year today pays the U.S. Treasury $520,000 in taxes and retains $480,000. If, by the cut in tax rates now being suggested for corporations, the rate was to go from 52 per cent to 48 per cent, it would mean that the same business would retain $520,000, and the government would get $480,000.

This would represent a net gain for the above business of exactly $40,000. Ask any businessman which he would rather have — a gain of only $40,000, or a rise of about $240,000 in net profits — and he will quickly choose the larger sum.

How could he get that extra $240,000? If business conditions improved and his sales rose so that his profits were $1½ million a year, he would have an additional net after taxes of $240,000 without any change whatsoever in tax rates.

INCREASED VOLUME of sales is a much more important factor than a tax cut. The latter could conceivably diminish public confidence because of the big treasury deficit that would be incurred.

It could bring an array of new and perhaps more acute problems as the finances of the United States come under the sharp scrutiny of the outside world, especially because the dollar is in serious trouble anyway.

What then is the alternative if there is to be no general tax cut?

The answer is for the Kennedy administration and factional groups in Congress to stop doing the things that have undermined confidence and to give assurance that such a reversal would not be temporary but permanent.

What are some of the things that need to be done? Here are a few:

Stop tampering with the normal and natural processes of the free enterprise system and leave it to Moscow to argue for government ownership or the suppression of private incentive as a way of life.

Recent speeches by so-called "liberal" Democrats during the filibuster in the Senate espousing government ownership of communications projects in the air have alarmed investors, who see this as a movement hostile to private business.

Stop asking for the election of more "liberals" who want the government to take over and run the country.

Stop the flow of gobbledygook on "guidelines" for wage and price increases. If prices or wages are to be regulated by the government, it's better to set up a wage-price board under federal law.

STOP USING antitrust laws to harass business and start getting laws that will do away with monopolistic power exercised by either big unionism or big business.

Stop interfering with the operations of American businesses in Europe which are bringing back hundreds of millions of dollars a year in tax revenue, and stop telling them they cannot use their earnings for reinvestment. Competing businesses owned by the British and other Europeans are permitted to do so by their respective governments.

Stop scaring promoters of free enterprise. Make them feel they have a future and that investors have a better-than-even chance of getting their money back at a profit if they now lay long-range plans based on the natural growth of America's population and the inevitable triumphs that efficiency can bring in a self-stabilizing economy.

There is nothing wrong with the economic situation currently that can't be corrected by a change in business psychology brought about by a conservative-minded president and a conservative-minded Congress elected in November.

Conservatism today primarily means to conserve the free enterprise system as against those who would undermine it and perhaps unwittingly destroy it.

China Clings To Past

By Hedley Rhodes

HONG KONG

In all their years of trying to reeducate, reform and reshape the Chinese masses, modern Chinese revolutionaries — both Mao Tse-tung's Communists and Chiang Kai-shek's Nationalists—have succeeded in giving China and its people a new look.

But much of what seems modern in China today is so only on the surface. Despite five decades of revolutionary influence, old thoughts and old ways maintain a strong hold on Chinese everywhere.

Some years ago the Chinese Communists passed a new marriage law designed to abolish the "evils of feudal marriage practices" and end the "tyranny" of the mother - in - law over girls forced into arranged marriages.

More recently during the establishment of the commune system, the Communists announced plans to break up the old feudal family system and liberate women from the drudgery of household chores so they could contribute to socialist production.

Children were to be placed in state schools and educated in a love of communism. Western and Chinese Nationalist critics immediately branded the move a plot to destroy the "traditional human values" in Chinese society.

PERHAPS this was the intention, but Chinese Communist publications themselves now tell how far the earlier propaganda tides have ebbed.

China Youth Magazine, the official agitator and counsellor for young Communist hopefuls, recently carried a letter from young Mrs. Wang Tung-man asking: "Comrade Editor, is a daughter - in - law obliged to support her father - and - mother-in-law?"

The editor replied with a strong affirmative. "It is compulsory and dutiful for a daughter-in-law to respect and support her father-and mother-in-law. . . .it has always been a traditional practice in our country for a son and his wife to support his parents. Although tradition is now law, it has moral force. This force is sometimes more powerful than law."

In Canton's Southern Daily, young Chen Hung-ting wrote to the "Comrade Editor," telling how his sweetheart student Liu Mu-hsueh's "mother strongly opposed our marriage, saying that the Liu and Chen families could not be united in wedlock and that my income was small."

Chen, having outlined the situation, ended: "Please give me your suggestion and help me out of this unfavorable situation and fulfill my beautiful wish."

The editor assured Chen his problem was, "a very simple matter judging from legal provisions, and putting kinship feelings aside," then went on to caution that, "this intimate kinship between parents and their children is very natural and readily understandable."

The editor advised Chen that, while "marriages arranged according to feudal practices and established customs to uphold parently dignity and authority at the expense of children's interests . . . are few and far between," they still take place. "Therefore, although parents' views are not always acceptable, they are not to be discarded lightly.

THE EDITOR points out that Chen and his sweetheart were both young and "need not be too anxious to get married right away," and suggested, "why not wait for some time and get more ideological work done in respect of the elderly lady? Since the ideological transformation of old people especially requires a certain length of time, try not to be too anxious in making demands of her."

Dynamite Ruled Cause Of Jet Crash

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Civil Aeronautics Board ruled officially today that the May 22 crash of a Continental Airlines jet which took 45 lives near Unionville, Mo., was the result of a dynamite plot.

Summarizing weeks of investigation, the CAB said "evaluation of all the evidence leads logically to the conclusion that a dynamite device was placed in the used towel bin of the right rear lavatory with the express intent to destroy the aircraft."

Making no direct reference to the culprit, the CAB merely said that the Federal Bureau of Investigation was still investigating.

It was reported some weeks ago that the FBI had learned that Thomas G. Doty, 34, of Kansas City, Mo., one of the crash victims, bought some dynamite and about $300,000 of life insurance payable to his wife. He also faced prosecution on charges of armed robbery and concealment of a dangerous weapon. Friends said Doty talked of killing himself rather than face the criminal charges.

Geneva Greenwood Fraley, 34, described as one of Doty's business associates, also was among the victims.

However, the CAB report said that at the time of the explosion, at 9:17 p.m., the plane was flying through clear skies. It concluded the weather was not a factor.

Among the evidence of an explosion were deposits of a gray-black material in the lavatory, the fact that the skin of the aircraft was pushed straight out over rivet heads in the area, and there were jagged perforations of metal fragments. The board clinched the question by reporting that these results were caused by dynamite.

East Palestine GOP Names Precinct Head

EAST PALESTINE — A. E. Berresford was elected chairman of Republican precinct committeemen at a meeting of the Men's Republican Club Tuesday night at the City Hall.

Paul J. Adams was named vice chairman. A membership goal of 500 for the club was set during business conducted by Walter Hunston, county commissioner and president.

Plans were also made for a booth at the American Legion street fair this month.

Fred Bycroft, Clyde J. Davis and Hunston, all precinct committeemen since before World War I, spoke briefly.

Clevelander Held By FBI For Theft Of Money Orders

CLEVELAND (AP) — A Cleveland man described by the FBI as the leader of a gang that stole $50,000 in money orders and cashed them across the country was arrested here Tuesday.

The FBI identified the man as Cornelius Lawson, 38, who was charged with passing two money orders for $100 each on blanks of the U. S. Navigation Co. of New York.

Lawson waived a hearing and was lodged in the Cuyahoga County jail in lieu of $7,500 bond.

Four other Clevelanders said to be members of the gang were arrested in Columbia, S. C., July 19 and are free under bond awaiting grand jury action.

They were identified by the FBI as John C. Fitchard, 30; Clifton L. Suttler Jr., 27; Jonah Wootan, 22, and William M. Allen Jr., 28.

Albert Williams, 32, of Cleveland was arrested by police here July 20 and is awaiting sentence for passing a phony $100 money order at a gasoline station. He pleaded guilty in U. S. District Court July 27, but Judge James C. Connell deferred sentence pending a report from the court's probation office.

E. E. Hargett, agent in charge of the FBI here, said more than 500 money orders blanks issued by the U. S. Navigation Co., American Express Co. and other concerns had been stolen from agencies handling them in Cleveland, Lorain and Youngstown.

Hargett said the gang forged names on the money orders and cashed them in Cleveland, Pittsburg, Baltimore and cities in South Carolina and West Virginia.

Civilians On Payroll Highest In 10 Years

WASHINGTON (AP)—The number of civilians on the federal payroll in June was the highest in 10 years, a Senate-House committee reported today.

The committee found that at year's end in June civilian federal employment was 2,496,455, an increase of 77,351 over June 1961.

This, said the committee, was the highest yearend figure since June 1952, the Korean War peak. Then it reached 2,596,800.

Peace Walk To Mark Hiroshima Bombing

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The 17th anniversary of the dropping on Hiroshima of a U.S. atomic bomb will be observed Sunday by a nine-mile peace walk in downtown San Francisco sponsored by the Bay area chapter of Women for Peace.

The walk will border an area equivalent to the 4.7 square miles destroyed by the blast and fire when the United States dropped the first atomic bomb used in warfare on Aug. 6, 1945.

New Manager, Chief Named At Wheeling

WHEELING (AP) — Charles W. Waseman was sworn in as acting city manager and 43-year-old Detective Sgt. Louis A. Kulpa was named police chief Tuesday night by Wheeling City Council.

Waseman replaces City Manager James C. Boyd, who council earlier had asked to resign. Kulpa succeeds former Police Chief M.A. Baumann, who the council also wanted out.

The 52-year-old Boyd came under fire of the council after he got into trouble several weeks ago in Columbus, Ohio. Boyd was fined $30 in a Columbus court on charges of intoxication and resisting arrest.

He alleged in stepping down last night that a top "underworld character" may be the power behind city government here. He did not mention any specific name in making the statement.

Homecoming Heads Appointed At Irondale

IRONDALE — Raymond Patton and Paul Ferry have been named in charge of the village's annual homecoming celebration.

Another meeting will be held Monday night at 7:30 at the hall, with all committees and interested residents to attend.

The celebration in past years has included games for children, a football game between Stanton Local High School and a rival, a homecoming dance, square dance, home talent show, a public dinner, and joint communitywide worship.

Workers End New England A-Sub Strike

GROTON, Conn. (AP) — Construction of 11 nuclear submarines resumed today as production workers at General Dynamics' Electric Boat Division returned to their jobs after a 13-day strike.

Work had been at a standstill in the sprawling yards of the nation's leading producer of nuclear submarines since the 8,700 workers walked off their jobs July 19 in a dispute that centered on seniority rights in event of layoffs.

The agreement was worked out in Washington last Friday after Secretary of Labor Arthur J. Goldberg intervened in the dispute.

The company estimated the strike cost 76,000 man-hours of production. It also forced postponement of the Aug. 4 launching of the Polaris submarine Alexander Hamilton. A new date must still be set.

The Navy was deeply concerned about the strike, and some of that concern spread to Congress, where requests were made for a quick settlement.

The strike followed a stalemate on a provision under the old contract enabling the company to lay off workers without regard to seniority if they were employed for fewer than seven years. Under the new contract the unrestricted period was trimmed to four years. The union had sought its elimination entirely.

The contract provides wage increases of 7 cents an hour in the first year, 7 cents in the second and 9 cents in the third. New fringe benefits were estimated by the company to be worth an additional 2 to 3 cents an hour.

Wage levels vary according to craft at Electric Boat, but the key rate before the strike was $2.96 an hour.

EAST PALESTINE — Council is slated to meet tonight at 7:30 in special session to consider resolutions placing proposed renewals of street and park levies on the November ballot.

The 1-mill street levy and 1-mill City Park levy, providing about $9,700 each annually, have been in effect for a number of years.

Clerk Issues Report On County Courts

LISBON — Clerk of Courts Carl L. Stacey has issued a report of six months operations of the three County Courts at Salem, Lisbon, East Palestine. The breakdown, with the first half of 1961 in parenthesis, shows:

The county treasurer was paid $23,898.36 ($18,675.82) in fines and costs.

Another $11,617.44 ($8,163) went to the state for Highway Patrol Fines, along with $322 ($187.50) from other fines to the state.

There were 1,681 (1,334) criminal cases filed and 418 (496) civil cases during the six-month period, Stacey said.

Byrd To Push Fight Against Tax Provision

WASHINGTON (AP) —After weeks of hearings, the Senate-nance Committee has approved a modified version of President Kennedy's tax revision bill. But Chairman Harry F. Boyd, D-Va., said he would carry to the floor his fight against its key provision.

The Virginian said today he would try to knock out the investment credit provision, designed as an incentive to American business to modernize its machinery and equipment.

Byrd plans to use as one of his main arguments the contention that the bill as it cleared the committee will cost the Treasury an estimated $750 million a year.

As it passed the House, the bill was figured to provide a $120 million surplus.

Byrd passed his vote as the committee approved the bill 9-2 Tuesday after struggling with it through hearings and executive sessions since April 2.

Administration Senate leaders have said they may hold up the tax measure until the President decides whether to seek a cut in personal income tax rates this session.

Byrd succeeded during his committee's consideration of the bill in knocking out the biggest revenue-producing provision in it—a tax withholding plan on dividends and interest.

The committee also softened the President's proposals to tighten up on the expense account deductions and to increase levies sharply on foreign incomes of U.S. corporations. Kennedy's backers believe they have a chance to win stiffer provisions in a floor fight.

The strike followed a stalemate on a provision under the old contract enabling the company to lay off workers without regard to seniority if they were employed for fewer than seven years. Under the new contract the unrestricted period was trimmed to four years. The union had sought its elimination entirely.

The contract provides wage increases of 7 cents an hour in the first year, 7 cents in the second and 9 cents in the third. New fringe benefits were estimated by the company to be worth an additional 2 to 3 cents an hour.

Wage levels vary according to craft at Electric Boat, but the key rate before the strike was $2.96 an hour.

Clerk Issues Report On County Courts

LISBON — Clerk of Courts Carl L. Stacey has issued a report of six months operations of the three County Courts at Salem, Lisbon, East Palestine. The breakdown, with the first half of 1961 in parenthesis, shows:

The county treasurer was paid $23,898.36 ($18,675.82) in fines and costs.

Another $11,617.44 ($8,163) went to the state for Highway Patrol Fines, along with $322 ($187.50) from other fines to the state.

There were 1,681 (1,334) criminal cases filed and 418 (496) civil cases during the six-month period, Stacey said.

Byrd To Push Fight Against Tax Provision

WASHINGTON (AP) —After weeks of hearings, the Senate-nance Committee has approved a modified version of President Kennedy's tax revision bill. But Chairman Harry F. Boyd, D-Va., said he would carry to the floor his fight against its key provision.

The Virginian said today he would try to knock out the investment credit provision, designed as an incentive to American business to modernize its machinery and equipment.

Byrd plans to use as one of his main arguments the contention that the bill as it cleared the committee will cost the Treasury an estimated $750 million a year.

As it passed the House, the bill was figured to provide a $120 million surplus.

Byrd passed his vote as the committee approved the bill 9-2 Tuesday after struggling with it through hearings and executive sessions since April 2.

Administration Senate leaders have said they may hold up the tax measure until the President decides whether to seek a cut in personal income tax rates this session.

Byrd succeeded during his committee's consideration of the bill in knocking out the biggest revenue-producing provision in it—a tax withholding plan on dividends and interest.

The committee also softened the President's proposals to tighten up on the expense account deductions and to increase levies sharply on foreign incomes of U.S. corporations. Kennedy's backers believe they have a chance to win stiffer provisions in a floor fight.

Group Begins Hearings On Drug Data Exchange

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, D-Minn., said today a "tragic, avoidable gap" in international exchange of information let the drug thalidomide get into the hands of 1,200 U.S. physicians.

Humphrey, in private life a pharmacist, said in a statement prepared for the opening of hearings by a Government Operations subcommittee, that sheer luck played a part in preventing the drug from causing widespread deformities among babies in this country.

It was only by chance, he said, that Dr. Frances Kelsey of the Food and Drug Administration found information on the effects of the drug in a letter to the editor of one of the world's 4,000 medical journals.

Dr. Kelsey was called as a witness in the hearings, which Humphrey said are directed at coordinating the exchange of drug information among U.S. agencies and between American and foreign agencies.

Humphrey said his subcommittee would not go over the ground already covered by Sen. Estes Kefauver's Antimonopoly subcommittee in its study of pharmaceutical legislation. Chairman Kefauver, D-Tenn., announced Tuesday that his committee would be asked to approve an amendment to pending legislation to require adequate tests on animals before new drugs are marketed.

Kefauver said in a statement that thalidomide, blamed for causing birth deformities when given to pregnant women as a tranquilizer, had been tested only on mice and rats before it was distributed. He said that after it was put on the market, tests on rabbits showed deformities similar to those in humans.

"The drug has reportedly been used in 13 countries," Humphrey said. "Dr. Helen Taussig, an outstanding authority, has stated, based on her on-the-scene study in West Germany, that the drug (thalidomide) — called "contergan" there—was manufactured by the ton. By 1960, it became Germany's most popular sleeping tablet and tranquliizer."

He said the committee is interested in the chain of events from the time a new drug application for it was received in the United States, Sept. 12, 1960, until it was withdrawn last March 8.

"During this time, supplies of the drug were apparently distributed — for experimental purposes only—to over 1,200 American physicians," he said. "It would appear that the case history of this drug is marked by tragic, avoidable gaps and delays in international communication.

"It would appear that, despite a strong drug regulatory system in the United States, there are serious weaknesses in information and communication on new, experimental drugs," Humphrey said.

Finkbines Are Silent On Abortion Plans

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Mrs. Sherri Finkbine, who shared with the world her fear of bearing a deformed child, apparently hopes to keep secret when and where she plans to have an abortion.

However, it appeared today the Finkbines will travel to a country which will permit the abortion.

Back in her suburban Scottsdale home after four days of seclusion, the pretty 30-year-old star of a children's television show said Tuesday she has been advised that any comment on her destination could jeopardize her chance of obtaining an abortion.

Mrs. Finkbine took the drug thalidomide, blamed for the births of thousands of malformed babies in Europe, Canada and Australia.

This is the passport he used last summer when he escorted a group of high school students on a tour of Europe. He purchased the thalidomide tranquilizers for his own use during the tour. He brought some home, and Mrs. Finkbine used them.

The Finkbines have tried to find a legal way to end Mrs. Finkbine's 2½-month pregnancy.

After a secret panel of doctors advised an abortion, it was scheduled for last Wednesday at Good Samaritan hospital. But hospital authorities called it off to await clarification of the hospital's legal position.

A suit was filed in Superior Court, asking for a judgment that her case came under an Arizona law which permits abortion to save the life of an expectant mother. The court dismissed the suit on a legal point without ruling on the question.

The Finkbines, who have four healthy children, learned of their plight through newspaper stories about thalidomide.

Mrs. Finkbine said she took 30 or 40 of the pills early in her pregnancy before the newspaper articles appeared.

Canton Resident Said To Have Pills

NEW YORK (AP) — The City Health Department says it has obtained the names of 38 persons, at least 17 from outside the city, who were issued thalidomide pills by a dozen doctors here. None was publicly identified.

The department said Tuesday it had located one woman in her 50s who still had 14 of the suspected child-deforming pills. Another woman, in her 70s, had used a small amount of the pills but had none left, the department said.

Ten of the persons who were given the drug are patients of Dr. Richard H. Hoffman, a Park Avenue psychiatrist. One of those patients subsequently gave birth to a deformed child which lived only about 40 minutes. Nine of the Hoffmann patients lived in New York, but one has moved, and the 10th is the one now living in Canton, Ohio.

The other 28 names were given to the department by some dozen New York doctors who received the drug for experimental usage.

Of the 28, 12 lived in this city and 16 were from outside the city including the Columbus man. The department was able to immediately contact only 5 of the 12 New Yorkers.

Officers Cite Man In Crash

A 20-year-old Maplewood driver was cited by police as the aftermath of a two-car collision at Dresden Ave. and Smith St. Tuesday at 6:15 p. m.

Charges of failure to stop in the assured clear distance were filed against David W. Christen, 408 Maplewood Ave., following a collision that damaged his 1957 two-door sedan and a 1958 model coupe operated by William Arthur Winland, 21, of 17 Ridge Ave., Wellsville, police said.

Christen was fined $25 and costs when he pleaded guilty to the charge this morning before Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff. Christen initially asked an opportunity to obtain counsel and his hearing was set for 9 a. m. Monday. But a few minutes later, he changed his plea and was fined.

Winland told police he was halted to make a left turn when his car was hit from the rear. Christen told police he was following Winland, driving about 5 to 10 miles an hour, when he took his eyes off the street momentarily to look at a motorcycle. Then his car hit the rear of Winland's, he said.

When Virginia won the 1962 Atlantic Coast Conference lacrosse title the Cavaliers snapped Maryland's string. Maryland had won seven straight years.

of Ohio and Pennsylvania already have repealed this tax."

"I'm in favor of the ordinance," Welch said. "The theaters have been hard hit by television and drive-ins. Any help we give will be appreciated by the theaters and their patrons. I'll go along with it."

"It isn't the theaters I'm thinking of," Massey said. "It's our own local school sports organizations which have to pay the tax out of their ticket money. And it affects the PTA's. As Mr. Berg pointed out, they work hard to put on carnivals to raise money for school projects and then they have to pay the tax."

Murray said figures in the auditor's office show the tax produced $6,001 last year.

"We're hurting for money now," he said. "That would be enough to pay the uniform allowances for the police and fire departments. If the income tax is repealed, we will wonder where the money is coming from. The tax situation here has been complicated lately. If the income tax fails, what will we do for money?"

"I feel this shouldn't be passed tonight," Murray continued. "I would like time for the public to contact me and the other members of Council."

"It has been in the paper and I had no calls on it," Sample said. "I would just like to point that out."

Massey reiterated that he was in favor of repeal.

"Even if we take the taxes off, I don't think theater prices will be reduced," Murray said. Several councilmen agreed the prices probably will remain the same.

Following the debate, the ordinance moved through the three required votes, with a 5-2 count on each. Edwards then pointed out it was one short of the number required for immediate passage on suspension of rules.

The ordinance will come up for second reading at Council's regular session Monday night. If it moves through that stage, it will be up for final passage Aug. 20.

The ordinance does not contain an emergency clause, which means it would not go into effect until 30 days after enactment — about mid-September under the present time-table. Legislation containing an emergency clause becomes effective as soon as it is signed by the mayor.

Before considering the ordinance last night, Council received and filed a letter from George Hargraves, chairman of the High School Athletic Board, in which he requested a meeting to discuss repeal of the admissions tax.

The managers of the three local theaters — Columbia, American and State — sent a joint letter to Council in mid-July asking the repeal. It was then the question was referred to the finance committee.

The request for repeal of the tax has been made annually over the last several years, but it never was acted upon favorably before.

Willshaw said he is not certain when the amusement tax first was enacted locally, but he believes it dates back to World War II days or possibly the late 1940's. It was in effect prior to 1951, as it is included in the current City Code published in that year.

At one time, the state collected the amusement taxes. To open up the field of revenue to hard-pressed cities, the state government dropped the tax as a source of income.

found in high weeds, face up, about six yards from the road. Authorities assume the murder occurred late Monday or early Tuesday. She may have been killed somewhere else and the body dumped where it was found.

You'll need a pound of okra for four servings. If the okra is young and tender, the pods should snap easily.

Race Issue Held Key In Hearing

ALBANY, Ga. (AP) — Racial tension—how much or how little—was the key issue today in a federal court fight over Negro mass demonstrations against segregation.

Police Chief Laurie Pritchett faced more cross-examination on his assertion that mass marches and picketing by Negroes created a tense, explosive atmosphere.

Pritchett is a principal witness in the city's attempt to enjoin permanently several Negro leaders and groups from staging or promoting marches, picketing, boycotting and similar protest activity in this racial test spot.

The case is being heard by U.S. Dist. Judge J. Robert Elliott.

Even as the legal battle went on, 39 more Negroes were jailed for prayer-singing demonstrations at the library and city hall Tuesday and Tuesday night.

The demonstrators, mostly teenagers, pushed to more than 300 the number of arrests in the current series of protests. Since December, more than 1,100 arrests have been made as a result of demonstrations.

Death Seen Accident

ALIQUIPPA — Authorities have ruled as accidental the death of Fred F. Ferry Jr., 12, of Aliquippa who was found hanged late Tuesday on a tree near the Aliquippa swimming pool. Boys playing nearby found the body and Hopewell Township Police Chief Joe Unis identified the victim. The boy was an eighth grade student at Aliquippa Junior High School.

Drill Team Awaited

TORONTO — The Tor - Vets color guard and drill team of American Legion Post 86, named Ohio state champions July 21 in competition at Columbus, will perform in the business district Thursday night at 7 to launch a fund-raising drive for participating in the national American Legion drill championships in October in Las Vegas. Andrew Blaner is drill sergeant. Contributions may be mailed to the Tor-Vets Fund, in care of the Toronto Post Office, the group said.

Air Search Launched For Missing Airplane

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — The Civil Air Patrol planned to throw every available man into an all-out effort today in the hunt for a missing airplane.

The CAP aerial crews were augmented by ground crews and state police units. The search centered on a rugged 10,000-acre wooded area of Elliott County, in northeastern Kentucky.

The plane disappeared Sunday night after Byers notified the Huntington, W. Va., Airport he had less than two hours fuel. The family was en route to Huntington to attend the funeral of Byers' father.

The search region is 25 air miles south of Ashland, Ky., and about 175 miles east of Louisville.

LaCroft Cub Scouts Have Dinner At Park

A coverdish dinner was held by Cub Scout Pack 74 sponsored by the LaCroft Parent - Teacher Association, Tuesday at the Tomlinson Run State Park.

Frank Tittle, John Tittle and John Bolton received bobcat pin and Mike Lockhart a one-year pin.

The boys are collecting pop bottles this month and proceeds will be used for a trip to a Pittsburgh baseball game. John Barnhart is cubmaster.

Job Figures Waited As Key To Tax Slash

WASHINGTON (AP)—Job totals for July—one of the major economic indicators on which President Kennedy plans to base his decision on whether to ask Congress for a quick tax cut—are announced today.

Preliminary indications were that the new figures would show some improvement over the June job totals, but perhaps not enough to dispel a widespread belief the economy is stuck on dead center.

The statistic being most closely watched is the seasonally adjusted unemployment rate. In June, it edged up slightly to 5.5 per cent of the work force.

This was taken as an unfavorable sign, since the rate had remained steady for many months. Another idle rate increase in July would surely be regarded as ominous. The June totals showed a record 69,539,000 employed and 4,463,000 unemployed. The employed total is on the verge of crossing the 70 million mark for the first time in history.

Today's job figures will be added to other government statistical reports that Kennedy and his advisers have under study in search of a clear indication of which way the economy is heading.

The President has said it is difficult to determine whether the economy is merely pausing on the way toward a gradual upward climb or actually has become stalled with a danger of turning downward again.

Driver Dies In Crash

BOWLING GREEN, Ohio (AP) —Wayne Erwin Noward, 36, of Route 1, Deshler, Henry County, was killed early today in a traffice accident on Ohio 281 just west of Custer in Wood County.

Highway patrolmen said they believed he fell asleep at the wheel and lost control of his car. It left the road, struck a telephone pole and rolled over twice.

Silk Beetles In Field Corn Found Earlier Than Usual

LISBON — August insect alerts from R. P. Holdsworth and B. D. Blair, extension entomologists at Ohio State University, have been received by the local extension office, according to Floyd Lower, county extension agent in agriculture. They include:

Silk beetles on field corn — As of July 20, adults of corn rootworms were observed feeding on corn silks. Past records indicate that adult feeding usually cause little or no economic damage. The beetles are out earlier than usual, however, and there is a possibility of silks being cut before pollination.

The presence of a few beetles, or some cut silks is not cause for alarm. If a check shows large numbers of beetles cutting fresh silks, then control may be justified. Use 1½ pounds actual DDT per acre.

Grasshoppers — We can expect more grasshopper damage to corn than we have had in recent years. Young grasshoppers are uncommonly numerous in fence rows. They will go from cut meadows to corn. Protect the crop before grasshoppers move in by spraying fence rows with Aldrin or Dieldrin.

Corn earworm — Judging by reports of earworm damage to early corn, second-brood earworm will be especially heavy from mid-August on. Earworms are not resistant to either DDT or Sevin. Control lies in starting early when first silks show, and then keeping the silks covered until they wilt.

Potato leafhoppers — Alfalfa fields, statewide, are showing yellowing due to a heavy buildup of potato leafhoppers. The condition will get worse in third growth. Spray with Methoxychlor emulsion concentrate when the crop is 4 to 6 inches high.

Mites — Several mite species cause bronzed and mottled leaves of fruit trees, shade trees and ornamentals. Kelthane or Malathion in at least two sprays, 10 days apart, are safe for the homeowner's use. One year's attack by mites will not kill the tree much less prevent leafing out next year.

Locust leaf miner — The second brood in August will turn the hills brown in much of Ohio. The damage is caused by beetle larvae eating out the tissue inside the leaves. They make no webbing. On individual specimen trees either Diazinon or Malathion may destroy larvae. On large tracts, however, benefit is not worth the cost of control and the trees should recover anyhow.

Mimosa webworm — Both mimosa and honey locust leaves will soon be webbed together and then skeletonized by tiny dark brown caterpillars. The second brood in August will cause more damage than the early brood in late June or July. Lead arsentate, DDT, Malathion or Lindane are all effective.

Defendant Wins Court's Acquittal In Fighting Case

Because a 17-year-old assumed all the blame, a 21-year-old Pleasant Heights man won an acquittal today in Municipal Court on a charge of disorderly conduct by fighting.

The defendant was William E. Rayl, 21, of 1416 Dorothy St., arrested at 1 this morning in front of the New York Restaurant by Patrolman Samuel E. Hayes. A 17-year-old Lincoln Ave. boy who is being held for Juvenile Court assumed the blame for the fight in testimony before Judge Samuel E. Chertoff, so the charge against Rayl was dismissed.

The juvenile told the judge he and Rayl "were just standing and talking" and added: "I don't know what started the fight." But later in his testimony he assumed the blame. Rayl said the 17-year-old "just walked up and hit me."

Officer Hayes said he was dispatched to investigate a report of a fight. He said he found the juvenile holding Rayl by the collar and preparing to strike him. He said Rayl's lip was swollen and bleeding. Rayl said he had been struck by the juvenile, the officer said. Neither would tell the judge the reason for the fight, despite questioning.

Suspect In Burglary Case To Get Hearing

Frank Schmidt, 33, of Shadyside Ave., East Liverpool, will be given a preliminary hearing on a burglary charge Friday at 1:30 p. m. before County Judge James L. MacDonald. Bond of $1,000 was set Monday and he was released.

Schmidt is charged with breaking and entering Dan's Tavern on N. Market St., Lisbon, on July 16. Sheriff's deputies said Schmidt was implicated in the tavern burglary by an admitted accomplice, William Wright, 25, of Wellsville R. D. 1.

Wright was bound over to the Grand Jury last week after pleading guilty to a burglary July 25 at the Gay Morrell residence near the Yellow Creek church. Wright remains in the county jail.

The local men's group received a membership citation. Wilbur Harmon of Walnut St. and Robert Dunn were the delegates.

Federal Grant Slated For Cleveland Airport

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Federal Aviation Agency has approved a grant of $912,650 for a new taxiway and high-speed jet turnoffs at Cleveland Hopkins Airport.

The taxiway would serve the 9,000-foot jet runway at the airport and the parallel instrument runway. Morgan Lauer, airport operations manager, said the federal aid would have to be matched by an equal amount of local funds.

Former City Power Firm Aide Promoted

A. A. Armbrust, manager of Ohio Power Co.'s Findlay District since 1956 and formerly of East Liverpool, has been promoted to the newly-created position of sales manager for the American Electric Power Service Corp. in New York.

Armbrust will assume his new duties on Sept. 1. He will supervise the sales efforts in the residential, commercial, rural and certain industrial fields throughout the seven-state AEP System.

Armbrust goes to New York after more than 36 years' service with Ohio Power. He joined the company in 1926 at Portsmouth, was transferred to Lima in 1929, and to East Liverpool as a power engineer in 1930.

He was promoted to a post at Tiffin in 1935, to Canton in 1937, to Lancaster District in 1947 and in 1956 became manager of the Findlay District.

VICTORY SIGNS are given by Arkansas Governor and Mrs. Orval Faubus at Little Rock as the Democrat leader apparently won nomination for a fifth term in the party primary Tuesday. Gov. Faubus held a 50,000-vote lead over his closest opponent, Sid McMath.

'Good' Response Reported On City Tax Installments

There was a "good" response before the deadline Tuesday from 500 local employers required to file two-month reports on city income taxes withheld from their workers' wages, Tax Commissioner D. G. Wilkinson said today.

Many returns were filed by mail yesterday and about 100 more pieces of mail arrived this morning, bearing Tuesday's postmark, Wilkinson said. He said the office will not know the percentage of compliance until all the mail is handled, but he believes most employers filed returns.

The returns cover withholding taxes for May and June.

Meanwhile, Wilkinson said the office has started daily mailing of summonses to persons who failed to file individual estimates of 1962 income before the deadline June 2. The deadline originally was May 15, but it was extended to June 2.

The individual estimates are required of persons who have earnings or other income not subject to withholding at the source.

Patrol Lists Damage In Route 30 Collision

Moderate damage resulted from a two-car collision on Route 30 at Cannons Mills Tuesday morning about 8:45 a. m., the Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon reported.

A northbound car operated by Edward Birch, 16, of R. D. 1 was struck in the rear by one driven by Kenneth Daugherty, 26, of Finleyville, Pa., when Birch started to make a left turn as Daugherty attempted to pass.

A bunch of carrots (with tops) usually weighs one to 1¼ pounds and is enough for four servings. You can scrub the carrots with a stiff brush, if you are putting them in a stew. If they are to be cut and served as a separate vegetable, it's usually best to pare them.

5 Applications Filed For Incinerator Job

At least five applications were filed before the deadline Tuesday at 4 p.m. for an examination the Municipal Civil Service Commission will conduct Aug. 22 to fill the post of incinerator department superintendent.

Applicants are permitted to file the forms with members of the commission and the clerk or at the office of Mayor Bert H. Goodballet. P. K. Calhoon, clerk, said he has assembled all the applications filed with Donal Burcham and Atty. Ben Berman, member of the commission, and at the mayor's office, but some may have been turned over to A. A. Fiorello, the third member of the commission.

The commission will set a date later for a meeting to screen the applications. The post has been vacant since the death of James A. McKinnon. Frank D. Bennett holds the job at present under a 90-day provisional appointment. It pays $420 monthly.

City Receives Lone Bid For Gasoline, Oil

The Standard Oil Co.'s Youngstown office filed the lone bid Tuesday with the Board of Control for furnishing a year's supply of gasoline, oil and other petroleum products for the street, incinerator, fire and police departments.

The offer was taken under advisement by Council President Charles N. Edwards, acting mayor, and Safety-Service Director Robert Owen. The city asked offers on 15,000 gallons of gasoline, 500 gallons of motor oil, 1,000 gallons of diesel fuel and 200 gallons of hydraulic oil.

Standard's bid said it will furnish the gasoline and diesel fuel at posted dealer prices at the time of delivery. The dealer price is the wholesale cost to dealers.

The current dealer prices are 22.9 cents a gallon for Extron (regular) and 26.4 cents per gallon for Boron (high-test), including 7 cents state tax, but exclusive of federal tax, the bid said.

Current dealer prices on diesel fuel are 16 cents a gallon for the Supreme brand and 15.5 cents a gallon for Sohio H-2, the offer said.

Standard offered Sohio brand motor oil at 60 cents a gallon in drums and 79 cents a gallon in quart cans in case lots. On Sohio HD motor oil, it bid 64 cents a gallon in drums and 83 cents a gallon in quart cans in case lots.

In connection with the bid on hydraulic oil, Standard recommended use of its HD 10 motor oil, quoting the same price. It also offered Polar 43 hydraulic oil at 43 cents a gallon.

Standard enclosed a certified check for $225, representing 5 per cent of its bid. The check was required in the city's legal call for bids to guarantee a contract would be executed if the company's offer were accepted.

had visited the club on a number of occasions, and it appeared "no worse than any other tavern in the city."

Patrolman Jerry Adkins, who works the midnight shift in the East End, said he has answered many complaints about the club, but upon arrival at the scene has discovered nothing "out of the ordinary."

Mrs. Anna Foster and her husband, Ecell Foster, of 211 2nd St., Wellsville, testified concerning a stabbing incident at the club, declaring an ice pick involved in the affair was not obtained at the club.

John Early, 1045 Pennsylvania Ave., retired City Hall janitor, said he resides across the street from the club, and has not been disturbed by noise from the club, although he goes to bed about 9 p. m. He said, under cross-examination, his hearing is not very good.

Columbus Christian, 1039 Pennsylvania Ave., club member since it was organized, declared trucks on Pennsylvania Ave. make more noise than he ever heard at the club.

Prosecutor Brokaw is expected to recall a number of the 18 state witnesses who testified previously.

the Kabylie Berbers to a compromise.

Minister of State Rabah Bitat, a Ben Bella supporter, flew to the Wilaya headquarters at Batna in the Aures Mountains Tuesday night to bring Boudiaf back to the capital.

Ben Bella was still in Oran, his western Algerian headquarters, but a spokesman said he planned to join the other leaders in Algiers Thursday.

Meanwhile, he was represented at the Algiers talks by his right-hand man, Mohammed Khider, who has taken a leading part in reconciliation moves during the past few days.

The power struggle that has virtually paralyzed Algeria since it won independence has pitted Ben Bella against Boudiaf and still another deputy premier, Beklacem Krim.

Boudiaf and Krim are supported by an estimated 10,000 Berber guerrillas of Wilaya No. 3, in their native Kabylie Mountains. Ben Bella claims the allegiance of most of the other guerrilla forces in the country and the 45,000-man regular Algerian army.

Premier Ben Youssef Ben Khedda meanwhile has moved toward a neutral position in the dispute, appealing to both sides to end their split and warning that the country is on the brink of ruin.

Foreign Aid Bill Gets Kennedy's Signature

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy signed today the $4,672,000,000 foreign aid authorization bill, and said he could not emphasize too strongly how important it is.

Among other things, the measure permits Kennedy to continue limited aid to Communist countries—a point disputed bitterly in Congress.

The authorization measure includes a four-year $2.4-billion Alliance for Progress program in Latin America.

The bill's authorization for foreign aid this fiscal year is $206.5 million less than Kennedy's original request. It still faces the possibility of much sharper cutting when the appropriations bill comes up. The appropriation measure provides the actual money for which the authorization bill simply sets ceilings.

Mrs. Anna Foster and her husband, Ecell Foster, of 211 2nd St., Wellsville, testified concerning a stabbing incident at the club, declaring an ice pick involved in the affair was not obtained at the club.

John Early, 1045 Pennsylvania Ave., retired City Hall janitor, said he resides across the street from the club, and has not been disturbed by noise from the club, although he goes to bed about 9 p. m. He said, under cross-examination, his hearing is not very good.

Columbus Christian, 1039 Pennsylvania Ave., club member since it was organized, declared trucks on Pennsylvania Ave. make more noise than he ever heard at the club.

Prosecutor Brokaw is expected to recall a number of the 18 state witnesses who testified previously.

the Kabylie Berbers to a compromise.

Minister of State Rabah Bitat, a Ben Bella supporter, flew to the Wilaya headquarters at Batna in the Aures Mountains Tuesday night to bring Boudiaf back to the capital.

Ben Bella was still in Oran, his western Algerian headquarters, but a spokesman said he planned to join the other leaders in Algiers Thursday.

Meanwhile, he was represented at the Algiers talks by his right-hand man, Mohammed Khider, who has taken a leading part in reconciliation moves during the past few days.

The power struggle that has virtually paralyzed Algeria since it won independence has pitted Ben Bella against Boudiaf and still another deputy premier, Beklacem Krim.

Boudiaf and Krim are supported by an estimated 10,000 Berber guerrillas of Wilaya No. 3, in their native Kabylie Mountains. Ben Bella claims the allegiance of most of the other guerrilla forces in the country and the 45,000-man regular Algerian army.

Premier Ben Youssef Ben Khedda meanwhile has moved toward a neutral position in the dispute, appealing to both sides to end their split and warning that the country is on the brink of ruin.

Foreign Aid Bill Gets Kennedy's Signature

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy signed today the $4,672,000,000 foreign aid authorization bill, and said he could not emphasize too strongly how important it is.

Among other things, the measure permits Kennedy to continue limited aid to Communist countries—a point disputed bitterly in Congress.

The authorization measure includes a four-year $2.4-billion Alliance for Progress program in Latin America.

The bill's authorization for foreign aid this fiscal year is $206.5 million less than Kennedy's original request. It still faces the possibility of much sharper cutting when the appropriations bill comes up. The appropriation measure provides the actual money for which the authorization bill simply sets ceilings.

Jail Sentence Suspended In False Report

A man accused of making a false report of an auto theft to the police department was given a suspended six-month County Jail term Tuesday when Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff convicted him after a lengthy hearing.

Harry Thomas Woolley, 49, of 906 Fairview St., was accused of reporting his auto stolen on July 10 in a fit of pique because a friend to whom he had loaned it did not return the car promptly. Judge Chertoff ordered Woolley to pay the $10 court costs.

Police charged that Woolley reported his auto stolen about 3:50 a. m. After it had been recovered a little over an hour later, Wooley admitted he had loaned the car to another man, but filed the theft report because the car was not returned within the specified time, police alleged.

Under cross - examination by Asst. Solicitor Richard J. Clark, Woolley admitted he was angered because his car was not returned and decided to file an affidavit against the man who had borrowed it. The defendant had reported his car stolen from a parking place outside the Roma Cafe on Broadway.

Wooley was represented by Atty. Paul Tobin, who entered a plea for mitigation of sentence before the court pronounced judgment.

The judge lectured Woolley on the possible consequences of the false theft report. He pointed out Woolley's friend could have driven the car into a neighboring state and possibly could have been fired at or wounded by a policeman who thought he was pursuing a stolen auto.

Asked if he had anything to say before sentencing, Woolley told the court: "Judge, I'm sorry."

DiSalle Hits Reduction Of Development Aid

MARION, Ohio (AP) — Gov. Michael V. DiSalle continued his campaign for re-election with a stop here Tuesday in which he rapped the last legislature again. DiSalle charged the Republican-dominated 104th General Assembly erred badly in "rendering the Department of Industrial and Economic Development virtually useless by slashing its appropriations to almost nothing."

The governor said the department, created by the 103rd Democratic - dominated General Assembly, had just begun to make real headway in its work when its budget was cut in half.

Ohio's 37th Gets Off To A Fast Start

The nearly 30 regular Army evaluators who grade every facet of the division's training and operation have turned in one of the finest opening reports in the memory of veterans.

In the first two days of training 1,311 areas were inspected and evaluated. In these 641 were graded superior and 702 excellent. Only 35 were satisfactory and no unsatisfactory grades were given.

Several unsatisfactory ratings usually occur in the opening days of the summer training period because mistakes are made in the rush to get into camp, set up a base of operations, move to the field and get training underway.

Rain hampered some operations Sunday and Monday, but Monday night the skies cleared. The temperature dropped to a chilling 39 degrees Tuesday morning, but the sun was shining when the Ohioans rolled out of their tents. During the day the mercury climbed into the high 70s — the warmest since the division arrived here Saturday.

Dry July Weather Deepened Drought Conditions In Area

The need for rain for parched fields and lawns was underscored again today by Edwin Copeland of Millport, U. S. weather oberver, who said in his July summary that drought conditions are becoming more serious.

Rainfall last month amounted to 3.37 inches — less than an inch under the normal 4.3 inches for July — but 2.2 inches of this fell in the drenching storm of July 3.

Copeland said the rainfall for the first seven months should have amounted to 23.14 inches, but the actual rainfall has been only 17.86 inches, leaving a deficit of 5.28 inches.

"We should have had about 6 inches in July to help make up the difference," Copeland declared," and we will certainly need above normal rainfall for the next three months."

Many farmers desperately need rain for corn and other crops, and a majority lack sufficient pasturelland so that cattle are on winter feed which is costly, he said. Copeland said the drought has been damaging.

The temperature for the month averaged 68.6 degrees, down from the normal 70.5 degrees for July. The mercury ranged from highs of 90 degrees July 7-8 to lows of 43 degrees July 10 and July 28, unusual double extremes Copeland reported.

There were 12 clear days, 13 partly cloudy and six cloudy days, providing sunshine of 60 per cent, compared to the normal 75 per cent.

Forfeiting were Irving W. Meese, 48, of Akron, William B. Bennett, 36, of Webster Springs, W. Va., Edwin M. Sorvisto, 44, of Madison, and Joseph F. Slaubaugh, 27, of Cleveland.

County Highway Death Toll Rises

Unless motorists exercise more caution on county highways, Columbiana County may record its highest traffic toll in the last 10 years.

With 17 persons killed in highway accidents in the first six months — the greatest number in the last 22 years — and a definite trend showing more fatalities in the second half of each year, the county may come close to the record of 35 fatalities set in 1949 and equaled in 1952.

IF THE 22-year average of 15 dying in traffic accidents in the second half of each year is borne out, the highway toll may reach 32 this year.

Three died from injuries suffered in accidents last month to boost the total to 20 so far this year.

A study of the records maintained by The Review since 1941 shows only two years when fatalities in the first half exceeded those of the second half while the traffic toll in four other years was equally divided.

Until this year, the most fatalities ever recorded in the first half of any year was 15.

AN EVEN more grim picture can be found in the last half of each year with 23 victims claimed in the last months of 1949 when the all-time high was set and 20 each in 1952, when the record was equaled, and 1941.

To further point out the increase in fatalities in the last six months of each year, only two deaths were on the books from traffic accidents in the first six months of 1956 but 15 were recorded in the last half.

But the county is not alone in setting a record in the first six months. The National Safety Council reported this week the nation's traffic fatalities during the first half year rose to an all-time high.

RECORDS in The Review files show 529 persons have lost their lives on county highways since 1941, including 409 males and 120 females.

Unfamiliar roads cannot be blamed too much since the statistics show 363 of the victims were county residents with 109 from other parts of Ohio and 57 from out-of-state.

The safety slogan about "the life you save may be your own" applies equally well to motorists and pedestrians.

The records show 215 victims were drivers of cars involved in crashes and — surprisingly — 115 were pedestrians or on foot when struck. The figure includes, for example, accidents in which children were killed while playing in driveways.

NINETY-SEVEN were passengers in vehicles, nine were bicyclists and two were sled riders. The records on the remaining 91 victims do not indicate whether they were drivers, passengers or pedestrians.

The records in the last 11 years show 136 one-car crashes, 104 in which two vehicles were involved and only two accidents in which more than two vehicles figured.

1941 — 31 (20)	1952 — 35 (20)
1942 — 14 (7)	1953 — 27 (14)
1943 — 20 (12)	1954 — 24 (12)
1944 — 24 (11)	1955 — 30 (17)
1945 — 24 (17)	1956 — 17 (15)
1946 — 25 (17)	1957 — 28 (17)
1947 — 33 (19)	1958 — 22 (11)
1948 — 29 (14)	1959 — 28 (15)
1949 — 35 (23)	1960 — 26 (13)

Girl's Tears Baffle Judge Like Any Man

Like any man, Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff was baffled when a 20-year-old blonde burst into tears this morning in front of his bench because she feared she might have to spend another night in jail before a misdemeanor charge against her could be heard.

Solicitor Joseph W. Cooper obviously was nonplussed, too, at the flood of tears released by Miss Saundra Trufley of Baum St., who faces a charge of malicious destruction of property. She is accused of breaking radio antennas, side mirrors and a windshield on 10 autos on the used car lot of Litten Motor Sales on Walnut St. Total damage was set at $120.

Originally arrested at 12:30 a. m. Tuesday on an intoxication charge, the young woman was given a suspended fine of $10 and costs on an intoxication charge. Then the charge of malicious destruction was filed against her by Ralph Compa, an employe of the auto agency.

Arraigned this morning, Miss Trufley pleaded not guilty. The solicitor requested a continuance because Compa was in Pittsburgh and unavailable to testify. The judge set the hearing for Thursday at 9 a. m.

When he turned to the young woman to enquire if she could post an appearance bond for the hearing tomorrow, she burst into sobs.

"It's the same old story," she said, explaining she could not locate anyone yesterday to post a bond for her. She said she has been in jail since she was picked up on the intoxication charge early yesterday.

"I don't want to spend another night down there; it's cold and I have a cold," she sobbed.

Both the judge and the solicitor appeared baffled and helpless for a moment as she continued to sob with her face in her hands.

Then the judge agreed to release the girl on her own recognizance to appear tomorrow.

New Wellsville School Head Is Kiwanis Speaker

Supt. Lowell B. Myers discussed his job as new head of Wellsville public schools in addressing the Wellsville Kiwanis Club at Tuesday's noon luncheon meeting in the Hotel Wilk.

Myers, who succeeded the late Dr. S. E. Daw, said a number of teacher vacancies exist in the system. Needed are two assistant football coaches, several social science instructors, two for industrial arts classes and a commercial teacher.

The former Alliance area official praised Dr. Daw's college preparatory study course, declaring they are "very adequate," and also praised Daw's educational achievements with "limited school funds."

Surplus Foods Slated At New Palestine Site

EAST PALESTINE — Distribution of surplus foods will begin Aug. 17 from 9 to noon at the fire station on E. Main St. Walter Hunston, county commissioner, announced.

Registration was held last week for out-of-town recipients of surplus foods for the new distribution center. City registrants are on city welfare records. Previously, recipients had to travel to Lisbon.

Capacity Crowd Seen At Services

A capacity crowd is expected at the opening service of the 125th annual camp meeting Thursday evening at Hollow Rock Campgrounds.

Dr. J. Harold Loman of Salisbury, N. C., Dr. J. P. Trueblood of Hertford, N. C., and Dr. James D. Gibson of Wilmore, Ky. will be among evangelists for the 10-day series.

Prof. Marvin G. Dean of Upland, Ind., will serve as music director. The Rev. Paul Brookes of Chester is president of the board.

Hollow Rock supports 20 missionaries and the missionary offering for 1961 was over $21,000. The services are interdenominational.

Midland Steel Local Will Elect 9 Delegates

Petitions are now available at the Midland Steelworkers Hall for members of Local 1212 of Crucible's Midland Works who wish to seek election Aug. 28 for nine delegates to the union's 12th constitutional convention Sept. 17-21 at Miami Beach, Fla.

Harry Petrosky, Local 1212 president, will automatically attend as the 10th delegate. His office said petitions must be returned by Aug. 10 at 5 p. m.

Polls will be open from 6 a. m. to 7 p. m. on Aug. 28 for the election at the Steelworkers Hall.

10-15 Per Cent Spurt Predicted For Steel

NEW YORK (AP)—A 10 to 15 per cent pickup in steel production and shipments is expected this month, Iron Age said today.

The weekly metalworking trade publication said the rate of shipments for August is estimated at 55 per cent of capacity which it called "not enough to raise any feelings of real optimism."

Iron Age said that despite the anticipated moderate gain, the tone of the market has not changed appreciably from the standpoint of prices, earnings and competition.

It said buyers are still putting on pressure for quality concessions and the weak market has produced cracks in the price structures of stainless steel, linepipe, conduit and a few other products.

The 107th Psalm in the Bible contains four verses, all of which read precisely alike.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: I was widowed at the age of 31. My daughter and I were just like sisters. We went every place together and always had a wonderful time. She had a good job, and never would accept a marriage proposal because she was content at home with me.

Two years ago she was transferred to another city. I was very lonely at first. Then I met a man and started to go out. My daughter was happy for me. When I told her he wanted me to marry him she was all for it. I've been married for 13 months and now I think I made a mistake.

My daughter is being transferred back here and I want her to live with us. My husband is violently opposed to the idea. Do you think it is right for a man to be jealous of his wife's daughter? I feel that since my daughter passed up marriage to be with me that I should divorce this man and make a home for her. What do you think? — DARDANELLA.

Dear Dardanella: Forget the sister act and be a wife. If your daughter has any brains she'll refuse the transfer even if it means her job. This girl needs to make a life for herself and she'll never do it if she moves back to the city in which you live.

Untidy Fiancee

Dear Ann: I've been dating a fine young man for several months. He hopes to be a certified public accountant next year. Perhaps this romance will never blossom into anything permanent, but even so I like him and I want to help him.

Norman (not his real name) is so careless about his personal grooming that sometimes I'm embarrassed to be seen in public with him. He never cleans his fingernails, his hair is always in need of a trimming, and I don't believe he ever has his suits pressed or his shoes shined.

I want him to succeed in his profession even if we don't marry and I know personal appearance is important. But how do I tell him without offending? Should I joke about it? I'm afraid to try a serious discussion. Or would it be best to accept him for his good qualities (which are many) and forget the rest?—WALKING ON EGGS.

Dear Walking: This is no joking matter. Have a straight talk with the young man.

If he's too thick-skulled to appreciate the favor, then he is the loser, not you.

Don't make the fatal error of remaining silent in the hope that you can change him after marriage. A man who won't clean himself up for his sweetheart certainly won't do it for his wife.

Unwelcome Guest

Dear Ann: I'm a happily married woman with three children. Last week my mother wrote that she is coming to make her home with us.

Dad passed away six months ago. His life with my mother was plain hell. Her rotten temper and impossible demands drove him to drink. She blamed him for wrecking her life, when it was the other way around.

When I was growing up I spent most of my spare hours with my aunt who lived nearby. I was never close to my mother and I avoided her whenever possible. My husband can't stand my mother and he doesn't even want her here for a visit.

Mother always spent money foolishly and now she is almost broke. She's in her mid-50s and could work, but she's such a bossy type I don't think she could hold a job.

I spoke with my minister and he says I should accept her into our home. I'm afaid it will mean the end of my marriage. What shall I do?—TROUBLED.

Dear Troubled: Your first obligation is to the man you married. No wife should be forced against her will to accept her husband's mother into her home. The same goes for a man when it is his mother-in-law.

Do what you can to help her financially, even if it means a genuine sacrifice. But don't let her move into your home, uninvited, and make a shambles of your marriage.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Job Board Posts Notice Of Exams For Lieutenancy

The Municipal Civil Service Commission Tuesday night posted on the police department bulletin board the official notice of a competitive promotional examination it has scheduled Thursday, Sept. 6, to fill the lieutenant's post vacated by the resignation Monday of Thomas A. Walker.

The commission said the test will be held at 8 p. m. in the Council Chamber at City Hall. The deadline for applications will be Wednesday, Aug. 22, at 4 p.m. and the forms must be accompanied by a $1 fee, the notice said.

All patrolmen with 24 months' or more service may file applications, it added. The notice is over the names of the three members of the commission, Donal Burcham, Atty. Ben H. Berman and A. A. Fiorello, and is signed by P. K. Calhoon as clerk.

The commission set the date for the test Monday night, a few hours after Lt. Walker submitted his resignation to Safety - Service Director Robert Owen.

Patrolman Charles E. (Bill) Tice, who headed a former eligibility list for a lieutenancy, has been appointed to act in Walker's place temporarily. But he contends the eligibility list still is valid and his name should be certified for the appointment.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: I was widowed at the age of 31. My daughter and I were just like sisters. We went every place together and always had a wonderful time. She had a good job, and never would accept a marriage proposal because she was content at home with me.

Two years ago she was transferred to another city. I was very lonely at first. Then I met a man and started to go out. My daughter was happy for me. When I told her he wanted me to marry him she was all for it. I've been married for 13 months and now I think I made a mistake.

My daughter is being transferred back here and I want her to live with us. My husband is violently opposed to the idea. Do you think it is right for a man to be jealous of his wife's daughter? I feel that since my daughter passed up marriage to be with me that I should divorce this man and make a home for her. What do you think? — DARDANELLA.

Dear Dardanella: Forget the sister act and be a wife. If your daughter has any brains she'll refuse the transfer even if it means her job. This girl needs to make a life for herself and she'll never do it if she moves back to the city in which you live.

Untidy Fiancee

Dear Ann: I've been dating a fine young man for several months. He hopes to be a certified public accountant next year. Perhaps this romance will never blossom into anything permanent, but even so I like him and I want to help him.

Norman (not his real name) is so careless about his personal grooming that sometimes I'm embarrassed to be seen in public with him. He never cleans his fingernails, his hair is always in need of a trimming, and I don't believe he ever has his suits pressed or his shoes shined.

I want him to succeed in his profession even if we don't marry and I know personal appearance is important. But how do I tell him without offending? Should I joke about it? I'm afraid to try a serious discussion. Or would it be best to accept him for his good qualities (which are many) and forget the rest?—WALKING ON EGGS.

Dear Walking: This is no joking matter. Have a straight talk with the young man.

If he's too thick-skulled to appreciate the favor, then he is the loser, not you.

Don't make the fatal error of remaining silent in the hope that you can change him after marriage. A man who won't clean himself up for his sweetheart certainly won't do it for his wife.

Unwelcome Guest

Dear Ann: I'm a happily married woman with three children. Last week my mother wrote that she is coming to make her home with us.

Dad passed away six months ago. His life with my mother was plain hell. Her rotten temper and impossible demands drove him to drink. She blamed him for wrecking her life, when it was the other way around.

When I was growing up I spent most of my spare hours with my aunt who lived nearby. I was never close to my mother and I avoided her whenever possible. My husband can't stand my mother and he doesn't even want her here for a visit.

Mother always spent money foolishly and now she is almost broke. She's in her mid-50s and could work, but she's such a bossy type I don't think she could hold a job.

I spoke with my minister and he says I should accept her into our home. I'm afaid it will mean the end of my marriage. What shall I do?—TROUBLED.

Dear Troubled: Your first obligation is to the man you married. No wife should be forced against her will to accept her husband's mother into her home. The same goes for a man when it is his mother-in-law.

Do what you can to help her financially, even if it means a genuine sacrifice. But don't let her move into your home, uninvited, and make a shambles of your marriage.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Job Board Posts Notice Of Exams For Lieutenancy

The Municipal Civil Service Commission Tuesday night posted on the police department bulletin board the official notice of a competitive promotional examination it has scheduled Thursday, Sept. 6, to fill the lieutenant's post vacated by the resignation Monday of Thomas A. Walker.

The commission said the test will be held at 8 p. m. in the Council Chamber at City Hall. The deadline for applications will be Wednesday, Aug. 22, at 4 p.m. and the forms must be accompanied by a $1 fee, the notice said.

All patrolmen with 24 months' or more service may file applications, it added. The notice is over the names of the three members of the commission, Donal Burcham, Atty. Ben H. Berman and A. A. Fiorello, and is signed by P. K. Calhoon as clerk.

The commission set the date for the test Monday night, a few hours after Lt. Walker submitted his resignation to Safety - Service Director Robert Owen.

Patrolman Charles E. (Bill) Tice, who headed a former eligibility list for a lieutenancy, has been appointed to act in Walker's place temporarily. But he contends the eligibility list still is valid and his name should be certified for the appointment.

Angels Continue Slump At Cleveland; Orioles Nip Twins

Yanks Trip Nats, Build Lead To Six

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Los Angeles Angels today made a fond farewell to Cloud 9.

The exhilarating ride in the upper strata came to a screeching halt Tuesday night as Cleveland scored a run without a hit in the seventh inning and handed the Angels their fourth loss in five games—their worst slump since the first month of the season.

The Angels, who reached first place in the American League on July 4, lost three of four at Detroit over the weekend and ran into a bunch of re-awakened Indians in the opener of their series at Cleveland.

Home runs by Willie Kirkland and John Romano supplied the punch for the Indians and dropped the Angels six games behind league-leading New York. The Yankees beat Washington 9-5.

In the only other game on the shortened AL program, Baltimore edged third-place Minnesota 8-7, leaving the Twins 6½ games back of first place.

Consecutive home runs by Kirkland and Romano in the sixth inning pulled the Indians into a 3-1 lead. The Angels battled back, tying it in the seventh when Gary Bell came on with the bases loaded and gave up a two-run double to Bob Rodgers before pitching out of the jam.

In the bottom half of the inning, Bell came across with the decisive run. He led off with a walk, reached third when pitcher Dan Osinski threw wild on Ty Cline's attempted sacrifice and scored on Tito Francona's grounder. Bell (8-8) held the Angels hitless over the final two innings. Billy Moran stroked four singles for the Angels in a 13-hit attack, but the Indians' six-hit offensive proved more effective. The loss went to Osinski (0-1).

Bill Skowron hit a grand slam homer in the first inning for the Yankees and Elston Howard got a two-run shot in the third, and that proved enough to subdue the Senators. Bill Stafford (9-6), coasting with a 9-1 lead, ran into trouble in the eighth and needed relief help from Rollie Sheldon and Jim Coates.

Claude Osteen (5-8) was charged with the defeat. The Yanks played without Mickey Mantle, who took batting practice but sat the game out with an ailing left knee.

The Orioles jumped on Jackie Collum, 35-year-old veteran lefthander brought up from Vancouver last Friday, for six runs in the fourth inning. A two-run bases loaded single by Jerry Adair and run-scoring singles by Whitey Herzog and Brooks Robinson were the key blows, while two runs came across on a throwing error by Collum and a passed ball.

Jack Fisher (3-5) started for Baltimore, but was chased in the eighth when Bob Allison's run-producing single and a three-run homer by Earl Battey brought the Twins within one run, 8-7. Relief ace Hoyt Wilhelm then took over and preserved Fisher's first triumph in a month.

Spires Picks Ohio U.

Stanton Ace Is Awarded Scholarship

Don "The Stilt" Spires, the 6-foot-7 scoring machine of Stanton Local High School who became a two-time All-Ohio Class A choice, will enroll at Ohio University at Athens, where he has been awarded a full athletic scholarship.

Several major basketball powers sought the services of Spires, who carried Harry Diehl's Stanton squad to two undefeated seasons in succession.

Spires chose Ohio U. over New York University and Niagara University, plus many other offers. The Bobcats are a member of the Mid-American Conference and are coached by Jim Snyder, who was the Ohio College Coach Of The Year in 1961.

OHIO U. meets some of the strongest basketball opponents in the country. Listed on the 1962-63 schedule is Cincinnati, the 1962 NCAA champion.

Spires was virtually unstoppable in high school circles as he poured in a four-year total of 1,395 for the Irondale school. That figure is a career record for an Irondale player.

As a junior, he totaled 467 points and was the only junior named to the Class A All-Ohio squad for the 1960-61 season. That year, Stanton Local won 18 games before losing in a Sectional tournament contest to Springfield.

LAST season, Spires went on a rumpage, pouring in 623 points and led Stanton Local to 23 straight victories before tasting defeat at the hands of Hiland in the District tournament finals.

On Jan. 16, 1962, Spires set a new individual school record by scoring 41 points against Newell. Later in a tournament game on March 7 he fired in 42 points against Dennison for his career high.

Don is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Marion Spires of Irondale.

Doc Rules Out Mononucleosis

Mysterious Ailment Puts Ernie Davis In Hospital

First reports said the All-America halfback, whom the Browns signed to a three-year contract worth $80,000, was suffering from the mumps. Later, the announcement came that the ailment was mononucleosis, a blood disease.

That also was ruled out, however, Tuesday night by Dr. Franklin Kaiser, the attending physician in Evanston.

"It isn't mononucleosis," the doctor said. "I haven't come to any conclusion. I won't know until further tests are made."

Davis said from the hospital he was feeling well now. "The swelling has gone down some," Ernie explained. "It was worse yesterday morning. I had fever but not a very high one when I checked in the hospital.

"They have been running some tests, but haven't told me a thing. No, I don't feel weak."

The hard-running halfback definitely is out of the College All-Stars' lineup for Friday night's game with the National Football League champion Green Bay Packers.

Davis To Miss Star Game

By JOE MOOSHIL
Associated Press Sports Writer

CHICAGO (AP)—As if facing the Green Bay Packers, National Football League champions, was not enough, the College All-Stars will have to go into the game Friday night without the services of Ernie Davis.

Davis, the All-America from Syracuse and last year's Heisman Award winner, will miss the game because of a possible case of infectious mononucleosis.

Davis may be replaced by Ron Bull, the hard-running back from Baylor who was being groomed as a flanker.

The All-Stars are 19-point underdogs and their victories are few and far between in this series. They have won eight times while the pros boast of 18 victories. Twice the games have ended in ties.

The loss of Davis may not be too great considering the theory that the collegians must pass in order to win.

Nevertheless, Graham has said, "We can run against those Packers if we can get some blocking in front of those runners."

Graham's hopes are bolstered by the fact that he has such runners as Lance Alworth of Arkansas, Bob Ferguson of Ohio State, Earl Gros of Louisiana State, Jim Saxton of Texas, Curtis McClinton of Kansas and LeRoy Jackson of Western Illinois.

In the passing department, the All-Stars will rely on the likes of John Hadl of Kansas, Roman Gabriel of North Carolina State and Bobby Ply of Baylor.

Football Position Open At East Junior

2 Teams End Season In Tie At South Side

The Georgetown - Shippingport entry and Lawrenceville wound up in a tie as the South Side Hot Stove League's Senior Division ended Tuesday. A playoff to determine the champion is being arranged.

Georgetown-Shippingport blanked Frankfort 15-0 behind the neat pitching of John Allison. Dave Ashcroft went three for four to pace the winners while Jerry Campbell slammed a home run and a double.

Games played Monday in the Junior Division Newell whipped Shippingport 23-11 with Franczek going five for five including a home run.

Pony Leaguers Need $200 To Continue Tourney Play

Are there 200 baseball fans in East Liverpool who would like to help send the city's Pony League All-Stars to the Sectional Tournament at Parkersburg next week?

James Locke, president of the Pony League, representing the Kiwanis Club, sponsor of the League, said the funds appropriated by the Kiwanis Club and League sponsors for the 1962 season have been exhausted and $200 is needed so the team can continue in tournament play.

The Pony League stars have been very successful so far having eliminated Beaver and Weirton. They are now paired against the Bellaire-Shadyside squad next Monday at 6 p. m. at Parkersburg.

Locke is asking for a $1 donation from 200 people. Donations can be mailed to the East Liverpool Pony League, P. O. Box 783.

Slumping Pirates Face LA Tonight

By JIM BECKER
Associated Press Sports Writer

The National League goes back to work today, with a nine-week straight stretch home, and if any club is going to catch the Los Angeles Dodgers it had better hurry.

In another ten days they could be out of sight.

The rampaging Dodgers, fresh from a sweep over their closest rivals, the San Francisco Giants, and hot as a Sunday in Houston, take two cracks at the slumping Pittsburgh Pirates tonight and Thursday, and then have the following tempting menu: Four games with the Chicago Cubs, two with the New York Mets and two with the Philadelphia Phillies.

Against those three clubs the Dodgers are a torrid 30-6 for the year.

This is obviously a fine feast to set before a team that has won eight of its last nine and boasts the winningest pitcher in the majors, Don Drysdale, 19-4; the leading hitter, (Tommy Davis, .353); the RBI leader, (Davis with 106); the stolen base leader, (Maury Wills, 51), and the hottest hitter in baseball, (Frank Howard, eight homers and 24 RBI in 11 games).

There was no action in the league Tuesday, following the second all-star game in Chicago on Monday.

Barring a complete Dodger collapse—and the signs all point the other way—only the Giants and the Reds can be rated serious contenders.

The Giants get a chance to lick their wounds against the same fare being served to the Dodgers, but they have not been as overwhelming against the Cubs, Phils and Mets. They are 26-9 against them.

Reed After 1st Victory Of Campaign

SOUTH ORANGE, N. J. (AP) — Whitney Reed, the top-ranking U.S. player who hasn't won a tournament this year, seemed today to be en route at least to the semifinals of the Eastern Grass Court Tennis Championships.

Reed's quarter of the draw opened up when seventh-seeded Larry Nagler was upset by little known Tom Edelfson of San Francisco in Tuesday's second round.

"But the way I'm playing," Reed said, "I might not get past my next match. I don't know what's wrong with me. I can't seem to get my touch back. I get it for a few shots but I can't keep it. And I'm a player who needs touch."

Reed, of Alameda, Calif., dropped from the U.S. Davis Cup squad, battled past Arthur Ashe of St. Louis, the national Negro champion, 7-5, 7-5, before Nagler, Studio City, Calif., lost, 4-6, 7-5, 7-5.

In the third round, the top-seeded Reed will face Ronnie Fisher of Houston. If Reed survives, he'll face the winner between Edlefson and Clark Graebner, Lakewood, Ohio, in the quarter-finals.

Claude Osteen (5-8) was charged with the defeat. The Yanks played without Mickey Mantle, who took batting practice but sat the game out with an ailing left knee.

The Orioles jumped on Jackie Collum, 35-year-old veteran lefthander brought up from Vancouver last Friday for six runs in the fourth inning. A two-run bases loaded single by Jerry Adair and run-scoring singles by Whitey Herzog and Brooks Robinson were the key blows, while two runs came across on a throwing error by Collum and a passed ball.

Jack Fisher (3-5) started for Baltimore, but was chased in the eighth when Bob Allison's run-producing single and a three-run homer by Earl Battey brought the Twins within one run, 8-7. Relief ace Hoyt Wilhelm then took over and preserved Fisher's first triumph in a month.

Spires Picks Ohio U.

Stanton Ace Is Awarded Scholarship

Don "The Stilt" Spires, the 6-foot-7 scoring machine of Stanton Local High School who became a two-time All-Ohio Class A choice, will enroll at Ohio University at Athens, where he has been awarded a full athletic scholarship.

Several major basketball powers sought the services of Spires, who carried Harry Diehl's Stanton squad to two undefeated seasons in succession.

Spires chose Ohio U. over New York University and Niagara University, plus many other offers. The Bobcats are a member of the Mid-American Conference and are coached by Jim Snyder, who was the Ohio College Coach Of The Year in 1961.

OHIO U. meets some of the strongest basketball opponents in the country. Listed on the 1962-63 schedule is Cincinnati, the 1962 NCAA champion.

Spires was virtually unstoppable in high school circles as he poured in a four-year total of 1,395 for the Irondale school. That figure is a career record for an Irondale player.

As a junior, he totaled 467 points and was the only junior named to the Class A All-Ohio squad for the 1960-61 season. That year, Stanton Local won 18 games before losing in a Sectional tournament contest to Springfield.

LAST season, Spires went on a rumpage, pouring in 623 points and led Stanton Local to 23 straight victories before tasting defeat at the hands of Hiland in the District tournament finals.

On Jan. 16, 1962, Spires set a new individual school record by scoring 41 points against Newell. Later in a tournament game on March 7 he fired in 42 points against Dennison for his career high.

Don is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Marion Spires of Irondale.

Doc Rules Out Mononucleosis

Mysterious Ailment Puts Ernie Davis In Hospital

First reports said the All-America halfback, whom the Browns signed to a three-year contract worth $80,000, was suffering from the mumps. Later, the announcement came that the ailment was mononucleosis, a blood disease.

That also was ruled out, however, Tuesday night by Dr. Franklin Kaiser, the attending physician in Evanston.

"It isn't mononucleosis," the doctor said. "I haven't come to any conclusion. I won't know until further tests are made."

Davis said from the hospital he was feeling well now. "The swelling has gone down some," Ernie explained. "It was worse yesterday morning. I had fever but not a very high one when I checked in the hospital.

"They have been running some tests, but haven't told me a thing. No, I don't feel weak."

Davis To Miss Star Game

By JOE MOOSHIL
Associated Press Sports Writer

CHICAGO (AP)—As if facing the Green Bay Packers, National Football League champions, was not enough, the College All-Stars will have to go into the game Friday night without the services of Ernie Davis.

Davis, the All-America from Syracuse and last year's Heisman Award winner, will miss the game because of a possible case of infectious mononucleosis.

They have won eight times while the pros boast of 18 victories. Twice the games have ended in ties.

The loss of Davis may not be too great considering the theory that the collegians must pass in order to win.

Nevertheless, Graham has said, "We can run against those Packers if we can get some blocking in front of those runners."

Graham's hopes are bolstered by the fact that he has such runners as Lance Alworth of Arkansas, Bob Ferguson of Ohio State, Earl Gros of Louisiana State, Jim Saxton of Texas, Curtis McClinton of Kansas and LeRoy Jackson of Western Illinois.

In the passing department, the All-Stars will rely on the likes of John Hadl of Kansas, Roman Gabriel of North Carolina State and Bobby Ply of Baylor.

Davis may be replaced by Ron Bull, the hard-running back from Baylor who was being groomed as a flanker.

Football Position Open At East Junior

2 Teams End Season In Tie At South Side

The Georgetown - Shippingport entry and Lawrenceville wound up in a tie as the South Side Hot Stove League's Senior Division ended Tuesday. A playoff to determine the champion is being arranged.

Georgetown-Shippingport blanked Frankfort 15-0 behind the neat pitching of John Allison. Dave Ashcroft went three for four to pace the winners while Jerry Campbell slammed a home run and a double.

Pony Leaguers Need $200 To Continue Tourney Play

Are there 200 baseball fans in East Liverpool who would like to help send the city's Pony League All-Stars to the Sectional Tournament at Parkersburg next week?

James Locke, president of the Pony League, representing the Kiwanis Club, sponsor of the League, said the funds appropriated by the Kiwanis Club and League sponsors for the 1962 season have been exhausted and $200 is needed so the team can continue in tournament play.

The Pony League stars have been very successful so far having eliminated Beaver and Weirton. They are now paired against the Bellaire-Shadyside squad next Monday at 6 p. m. at Parkersburg.

Locke is asking for a $1 donation from 200 people. Donations can be mailed to the East Liverpool Pony League, P. O. Box 783.

Slumping Pirates Face LA Tonight

By JIM BECKER
Associated Press Sports Writer

The National League goes back to work today, with a nine-week straight stretch home, and if any club is going to catch the Los Angeles Dodgers it had better hurry.

In another ten days they could be out of sight.

The rampaging Dodgers, fresh from a sweep over their closest rivals, the San Francisco Giants, and hot as a Sunday in Houston, take two cracks at the slumping Pittsburgh Pirates tonight and Thursday, and then have the following tempting menu: Four games with the Chicago Cubs, two with the New York Mets and two with the Philadelphia Phillies.

Against those three clubs the Dodgers are a torrid 30-6 for the year.

This is obviously a fine feast to set before a team that has won eight of its last nine and boasts the winningest pitcher in the majors, Don Drysdale, 19-4; the leading hitter, (Tommy Davis, .353); the RBI leader, (Davis with 106); the stolen base leader, (Maury Wills, 51), and the hottest hitter in baseball, (Frank Howard, eight homers and 24 RBI in 11 games).

There was no action in the league Tuesday, following the second all-star game in Chicago on Monday.

Barring a complete Dodger collapse—and the signs all point the other way—only the Giants and the Reds can be rated serious contenders.

The Giants get a chance to lick their wounds against the same fare being served to the Dodgers, but they have not been as overwhelming against the Cubs, Phils and Mets. They are 26-9 against them.

Reed After 1st Victory Of Campaign

SOUTH ORANGE, N. J. (AP) — Whitney Reed, the top-ranking U.S. player who hasn't won a tournament this year, seemed today to be en route at least to the semifinals of the Eastern Grass Court Tennis Championships.

Reed's quarter of the draw opened up when seventh-seeded Larry Nagler was upset by little known Tom Edelfson of San Francisco in Tuesday's second round.

"But the way I'm playing," Reed said, "I might not get past my next match. I don't know what's wrong with me. I can't seem to get my touch back. I get it for a few shots but I can't keep it. And I'm a player who needs touch."

Reed, of Alameda, Calif., dropped from the U.S. Davis Cup squad, battled past Arthur Ashe of St. Louis, the national Negro champion, 7-5, 7-5, before Nagler, Studio City, Calif., lost, 4-6, 7,5, 7-5.

In the third round, the top-seeded Reed will face Ronnie Fisher of Houston. If Reed survives, he'll face the winner between Edlefson and Clark Graebner, Lakewood, Ohio, in the quarter-finals.

Offers Pour In On Jerry Lucas

The Cleveland Pipers, champions of the American Basketball League in the circuit's initial season and rejected Monday on their application bid to become a member of the National Basketball Association, feel they have the inside track on Lucas.

The Pipers and their president, George Steinbrenner, had Lucas' name on a contract to play in the ABL, then to play in the NBA—but now have neither. It is agreed Lucas is under no contract, since the terms of his agreement were not met. He is to confer with Steinbrenner today.

"I've had six calls from all over the country," he said from Columbus Tuesday. "I'm going to listen to them all."

With the Pipers' door to the NBA now closed, the ABL put out the welcome mat for the return of Cleveland to that circuit. And ABL commissioner Abe Saperstein, who also gets around as head of the Harlem Globetrotters, was hurrying back from Buenos Aires, Argentina.

Lucas said he received an "indirect offer" from the NBA Tuesday. Joe Hardy, a Columbus businessman who has been acting as adviser to Lucas, told of the Saturday meeting.

Podoloff asked Lucas to sign a contract directly with the NBA, Hardy said, and started at $10,000.

Podoloff then gave Lucas three plane tickets and told him to meet him for a conference in New York Tuesday if the Pipers were turned down. Not long after the Pipers were rejected at the New York meeting, Lucas received a telegram from Podoloff saying the conference was off and asking for the return of the plane tickets.

"I like Cleveland," Lucas said. "I wanted to play there. I'm not saying that I don't know, but at the moment I don't know what I'm going to do."

"We were notified that the stock was being held in escrow in a Cleveland bank," he said. "A later check-up proved it wasn't there."

Steinbrenner, struggling to raise money, got a big boost late Tuesday from George McKeon, wealthy California builder who owned the San Francisco Saints in the ABL last season. McKeon said he sent "good faith" money to a bank here to back up the commitment to Lucas.

"We will honor Jerry's contract to the letter if he plays for Cleveland in the ABL," McKeon said from Sacramento.

Mets 22 Hand Collegians First Defeat

The defense-minded Mets 22 became the giant killers of the Slow Pitch League by knocking off the previously undefeated Collegians 6-5 in eight innings Tuesday.

While the Mets pulled an upset, Ed Pack continued his home run barrage for East End which came from far behind to nip American Billiards, 10-9.

When the score tied 5-5, Mets 22 loaded the bases in the eighth inning and Huff laid down a two-strike bunt to drive in the winning run.

Boley was the winning pitcher with Jim Clunk the loser. Huff had two hits in four trips to pace the Mets while Jim Eckstein homered for the Collegians which now own a 4-1 record but retain the top spot since American Billiards lost.

East End trailed at one time 7-0 but came roaring back to top American Billiards. With the score reading 9-8 in the last of the seventh, Pack walloped another tape measure shot to left field with a mate on base to wrap up the victory for East End. It was his second homer of the contest.

Giants Ready To Shoot Past Million Mark

NEW YORK (AP) — The San Francisco Giants are virtually certain today to become the second major league baseball team to go past the 1,000,000 mark in home attendance.

In 48 home dates, the Giants have played before 991,629 in Candlestick Park. They face the Chicago Cubs in an afternoon game.

The Los Angeles Dodgers are the only other club to have shot over the 1,000,000 mark. They have pulled 1,539,746 through the turnstiles in Chavez Ravine.

The three West Coast entries are among eight showing home attendance increases this season. The Dodgers are up 434,731, the Los Angeles Angels 315,029 and the Giants 63,695.

Six teams are more than 100,000 behind last year's figures. They are Milwaukee 225,729; Chicago Cubs, 169,030; Detroit 161,007; Pittsburgh 151,850; Baltimore 110,575, and Chicago White Sox 109,809.

Boyd Taylor, Lehigh fullback from Ridley Park, Pa., led the Middle Atlantic Conference in rushing in 1961 with 321 yards on 89 carries. He averaged 3.7 yards.

Mizell, Lary, Sadecki Head For Minors

By The Associated Press

Pitchers Ray Sadecki of St. Louis, Frank Lary of Detroit and Vinegar Bend Mizell of the New York Mets—at the low points of their prominent careers—headed today down different forks of baseball's often bumpy road.

Sadecki, 21-year-old sophomore southpaw whose lackluster pitching performance on June 5 caused him to be fined and suspended, was on the way to the minors. The Cardinals optioned Sadecki to Atlanta of the International League Tuesday and recalled pitcher Paul Toth from the same club.

At the same time, the Tigers placed Lary, a 23-game winner last year who has been plagued by shoulder trouble this season, on the disabled list. And the Mets asked waivers on Mizell, vital cog for Pittsburgh's 1960 National League Pennant winners.

Sadecki was considered one of the Redbirds' promising young pitchers. He was 14-10 as a rookie in 1961, but this season is 6-8 with a 5.5 earned run average.

Lary was 2-6 and had managed to complete only two of 13 starts. While the 31-year-old right-hander is on the disabled list for at least 30 days, the Tigers decided to bring up right-hander Howie Koplitz from Denver of the American Association.

Mizell, obtained from the Pirates May 9, was 0-2 with the Mets and 1-3 over-all—his lone victory coming against the New Yorkers. The 31-year-old high-kicking left-hander was 13-5 with the 1960 pennant winning Pirates.

Cannon Flips 1-Hitter For Calvary Methodist

Jerry Cannon came up with a neat one-hitter for Calvary Methodist which downed First Free Methodist 8-1 Monday in the YMCA - Church League.

Cannon also had three hits including a triple to support his own attack. Jim Dickey and Woody Pusey came up with two hits apiece.

Ferlaino's Capture Tourney Contest, 2-1

Anthony Ferlaino Construction of East Liverpool won a tight 2-1 decision over the Italian Club to remain in the Salem Softball Tournament.

BALTIMORE (AP)—The Minnesota Twins announced Tuesday night that pitching ace Camilo Pascual will have his sore arm examined in Washington by Dr. George Resta.

Pascual reported a tenderness in his right elbow Sunday and asked to be excused from the All-Star game in Chicago. The 28-year-old Cuban right-hander last pitched in Cleveland Friday night.

Sunday Night Contests Set For Houston

CHICAGO (AP)—Approving another 162-game schedule, the National League waived a Sunday night playing ban in favor of the Houston Colts Tuesday.

The National League, in a post All-Star meeting, decided to allow Houston to play Sunday night games because of the intense heat in Texas.

However, Commissioner Ford Frick, who advanced his approval, said the Houston club would have the privilege for one year only and if the Sunday night games involved getaway dates, where a team must leave for another city, then both clubs would have to approve them.

Frick previously had taken a strong stand against games played on Sunday morning or Sunday night.

"I know there is a bad situation in Houston because of the heat," said Frick, "this will only last until the air-conditioned stadium there is finished. This is tentatively set for 1964."

Warren Giles, president of the National League, admitted that the league considered a 153-game schedule but voted against it. "We hope to have a much better schedule than this year, working out a program that will avoid short road stands and long hops," Giles said.

Offers Pour In On Jerry Lucas

Pipers Have Inside Track

The Cleveland Pipers, champions of the American Basketball League in the circuit's initial season and rejected Monday on their application bid to become a member of the National Basketball Association, feel they have the inside track on Lucas.

The Pipers and their president, George Steinbrenner, had Lucas' name on a contract to play in the ABL, then to play in the NBA—but now have neither. It is agreed Lucas is under no contract, since the terms of his agreement were not met. He is to confer with Steinbrenner today.

Lucas, regarded as the greatest new box-office attraction in basketball, is being badgered on all sides.

"I've had six calls from all over the country," he said from Columbus Tuesday. "I'm going to listen to them all."

With the Pipers' door to the NBA now closed, the ABL put out the welcome mat for the return of Cleveland to that circuit. And ABL commissioner Abe Saperstein, who also gets around as head of the Harlem Globetrotters, was hurrying back from Buenos Aires, Argentina.

Lucas said he received an "indirect offer" from the NBA Tuesday. Joe Hardy, a Columbus businessman who has been acting as adviser to Lucas, told of the Saturday meeting.

Podoloff asked Lucas to sign a contract directly with the NBA, Hardy said, and started at $10,000.

"Eventually, he was talking in terms of $50,000 and $60,000," Hardy added. "Jerry refused because of his contract with Steinbrenner."

Podoloff then gave Lucas three plane tickets and told him to meet him for a conference in New York Tuesday if the Pipers were turned down. Not long after the Pipers were rejected at the New York meeting, Lucas received a telegram from Podoloff saying the conference was off and asking for the return of the plane tickets.

"I like Cleveland," Lucas said. "I wanted to play there. I'm not saying that I don't know, but at the moment I don't know what I'm going to do."

Lucas originally signed a two-year contract, providing for an estimated $60,000. It included $40,000 in blue-chip stocks.

"We were notified that the stock was being held in escrow in a Cleveland bank," he said. "A later check-up proved it wasn't there."

Steinbrenner, struggling to raise money, got a big boost late Tuesday from George McKeon, wealthy California builder who owned the San Francisco Saints in the ABL last season. McKeon said he sent "good faith" money to a bank here to back up the commitment to Lucas.

"We will honor Jerry's contract to the letter if he plays for Cleveland in the ABL," McKeon said from Sacramento.

Mets 22 Hand Collegians First Defeat

The defense-minded Mets 22 became the giant killers of the Slow Pitch League by knocking off the previously undefeated Collegians 6-5 in eight innings Tuesday.

While the Mets pulled an upset, Ed Pack continued his home run barrage for East End which came from far behind to nip American Billiards, 10-9.

When the score tied 5-5, Mets 22 loaded the bases in the eighth inning and Huff laid down a two-strike bunt to drive in the winning run.

Boley was the winning pitcher with Jim Clunk the loser. Huff had two hits in four trips to pace the Mets while Jim Eckstein homered for the Collegians which now own a 4-1 record but retain the top spot since American Billiards lost.

East End trailed at one time 7-0 but came roaring back to top American Billiards. With the score reading 9-8 in the last of the seventh, Pack walloped another tape measure shot to left field with a mate on base to wrap up the victory for East End. It was his second homer of the contest.

Giants Ready To Shoot Past Million Mark

NEW YORK (AP) — The San Francisco Giants are virtually certain today to become the second major league baseball team to go past the 1,000,000 mark in home attendance.

In 48 home dates, the Giants have played before 991,629 in Candlestick Park. They face the Chicago Cubs in an afternoon game.

The Los Angeles Dodgers are the only other club to have shot over the 1,000,000 mark. They have pulled 1,539,746 through the turnstiles in Chavez Ravine.

The three West Coast entries are among eight showing home attendance increases this season. The Dodgers are up 434,731, the Los Angeles Angels 315,029 and the Giants 63,695.

Six teams are more than 100,000 behind last year's figures. They are Milwaukee 225,729; Chicago Cubs, 169,030; Detroit 161,007; Pittsburgh 151,850; Baltimore 110,575, and Chicago White Sox 109,809.

Boyd Taylor, Lehigh fullback from Ridley Park, Pa., led the Middle Atlantic Conference in rushing in 1961 with 321 yards on 89 carries. He averaged 3.7 yards.

Mizell, Lary, Sadecki Head For Minors

By The Associated Press

Pitchers Ray Sadecki of St. Louis, Frank Lary of Detroit and Vinegar Bend Mizell of the New York Mets—at the low points of their prominent careers—headed today down different forks of baseball's often bumpy road.

Sadecki, 21-year-old sophomore southpaw whose lackluster pitching performance on June 5 caused him to be fined and suspended, was on the way to the minors. The Cardinals optioned Sadecki to Atlanta of the International League Tuesday and recalled pitcher Paul Toth from the same club.

At the same time, the Tigers placed Lary, a 23-game winner last year who has been plagued by shoulder trouble this season, on the disabled list. And the Mets asked waivers on Mizell, vital cog for Pittsburgh's 1960 National League Pennant winners.

Sadecki was considered one of the Redbirds' promising young pitchers. He was 14-10 as a rookie in 1961, but this season is 6-8 with a 5.5 earned run average.

Lary was 2-6 and had managed to complete only two of 13 starts. While the 31-year-old right-hander is on the disabled list for at least 30 days, the Tigers decided to bring up right-hander Howie Koplitz from Denver of the American Association.

Mizell, obtained from the Pirates May 9, was 0-2 with the Mets and 1-3 over-all—his lone victory coming against the New Yorkers. The 31-year-old high-kicking left-hander was 13-5 with the 1960 pennant winning Pirates.

Cannon Flips 1-Hitter For Calvary Methodist

Jerry Cannon came up with a neat one - hitter for Calvary Methodist which downed First Free Methodist 8-1 Monday in the YMCA - Church League.

Cannon also had three hits including a triple to support his own attack. Jim Dickey and Woody Pusey came up with two hits apiece.

Ferlaino's Capture Tourney Contest, 2-1

Anthony Ferlaino Construction of East Liverpool won a tight 2-1 decision over the Italian Club to remain in the Salem Softball Tournament.

Bob Campbell drove in both runs for the local entry. Frank Paytors was the winning pitcher and gave up four hits.

Ferlaino's plays again tonight at 6:30.

Gavin Resigns Post As Envoy To France

WASHINGTON (AP) —James M. Gavin has resigned as ambassador to France, the White House announced today.

Gavin is returning to private life. President Kennedy assured him that he did so with "my warmest personal wishes and my hearty thanks."

Government officials said that Gavin's desire to end some personal and financial problems was the compelling reason for the resignation, rather than any policy differences.

There have been reports, nevertheless, that Gavin did not see eye-to-eye with the Kennedy administration on the question of France's aspirations to become a nuclear power.

The resignation will be effective, White House press secretary Pierre Salinger said, upon the nomination and confirmation of a successor. He said the name of a successor will be submitted to the French government soon. The ambassador's letter of resignation spoke of being relieved of his responsibilities in September.

New Agreement Set On West New Guinea

Hopes were high here and in Washington that a final accord will be signed by mid-August.

But Sukarno first must retreat from his frequent pledge to take the Dutch-held territory by Jan. 1. Under the preliminary agreement worked out at a country estate near Washington, Indonesia would not get full control of the territory until next May.

Reports from The Hague indicated, however, that the preliminary agreement gives Sukarno a face-saving out—a token realization of his pledge—by providing for a symbolic raising of the Indonesian flag over West New Guinea on Aug. 17.

Action Slated To Ask Ramp On Sunnyside

Within 30 days, the State Highway Department will present a formal application to the Federal Bureau of Public Roads on East Liverpool's request for construction of a vehicular overpass to link together the two sections of W. 9th St. made into a deadend by the California Hollow-West End Freeway project.

Mayor Bert H. Goodballet and Engineer George S. Bloomgren received that promise Tuesday in a conference at Columbus with top officials of the Highway Department.

The two city officials conferred with C. W. McCaughey, deputy director in charge of construction; Warren J. Cremean, in charge of location and design; Guy Neeper, in charge of planning and programming, and William P. McKenna, head of the Division 11 office at New Philadelphia.

The city's request to the state followed protests from Sunnyside area residents that their residential district was "isolated" when W. 9th St. was chopped off into two deadend sections.

"The purpose of the meeting was to unify the efforts of the various offices in preparing information to be submitted to the Bureau of Public Roads in support of the city's request," the mayor said. "The state has checked the information, including the traffic count, previously submitted by the city, and found it to be substantially correct."

The mayor said the Highway Department officials feel that additional data must be assembled and exhibits must be prepared in order to make "an adequate presentation" to the federal agency. However, he said he was assured that the presentation would be made within 30 days.

Both state and federal agencies figure in the city's application for the ramp because the freeway is a State Highway Department project being constructed with federal aid.

CLEVELAND (AP) — Revenue from the Ohio Turnpike during July apparently will exceed $3,050,000, a gain of about $100,000 compared with the corresponding month of last year, the Turnpike Commission reports. THE REVIEW

Koppers Co. Shows Gains

Sales and earnings of Koppers Co., Inc. for the first half of 1962 showed significant increases over last year's results, Fred C. Foy, chairman of the board, announced at Pittsburgh.

Koppers net income for the first six months totaled $3,725,000, a 35 per cent increase over the $2,757,000 earned in the first half of 1961. After provision for payment of preferred dividends, net income for the first half of 1962 was equal to $1.51 per share of common stock outstanding, compared to the $1.07 per share earned in the same period of 1961.

The company's second - quarter income was $2,005,000, which was equal, after provision for preferred dividends, to 82 cents per share. This compares with $1,833,000, or 73 cents per share, earned in the second quarter of 1961 and $1,720,000, or 69 cents a share, in the first three months this year.

First - half sales this year were $140.1 million, contrasted with the $129.0 million recorded in the first half of 1961. Sales of all Koppers divisions were higher for the first half of 1962 than in the same period last year.

Commenting on Koppers prospects for the months ahead, Foy said "we feel that our third-quarter results will continue to show improvement over the 1961 figures. One indication of this is the fact that we received $73.8 million in new orders during the quarter just completed, representing a sizable increase over the $64.2 million in new orders received in the same period of 1961." The firm operates a facility at Arroyo, Newell.

County ASC Balloting Set

LISBON — Clifford F. Shaw, chairman of the Columbiana County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, announced that the annual election of the ASC community committeemen and delegates to the county convention will be held by mail again this year.

Ballots will be mailed to all known eligible voters on Aug. 24 and are to be marked and returned or postmarked not later than Sept. 5.

A slate of nominees for membership on each community committee will be established by the present committees. The slate will also include the names of all persons nominated by proper petition. Petitions must be signed by 10 or more eligible voters, nominating persons for membership on the community committee. The petitions must be received in the county ASC office by the close of business on Aug. 10.

Names of persons so nominated will be included in the slate of nominees if found willing to serve and are eligible, Shaw said. If a person nominated by petition is found ineligible, he will be notified prior to completion of the slate and may appeal to the ASC county committee anytime prior to Aug. 17.

Each of the ASC community committees may make such additional nominations as are required or as it determines are desirable, Shaw said.

Club To Hear Traveler

LISBON — Mrs. Doris Eells of Lisbon will speak on her recent trip around the world at the Kiwanis Club luncheon Thursday noon at the Eagles diningroom. Floyd Lower is program chairman.

Rt. 68 Work Is Completed

The application of a seal coat on Route 68 from Midland to Beaver Creek was completed Monday, Harry Cotters, superintendent of the Beaver County Division of the Pennsylvania State Highway Department at Rochester, said today.

The highway department earlier patched the highway where needed. The section of highway from Midland to Industry was patched and seal coated previously.

Cotters reported work "fairly well" completed on Route 168 from Midland to Route 251 and crews will be working on the road up to "bad" weather. Besides patching, berms are being graded.

He said highway crews will go back and clean under the guardrails. He said the contract for the widening and resurfacing of Route 168 probably will be awarded this year in connection with the new Midland - Shippingport Bridge but work may be held off until spring in order not to leave the road torn up during winter out of concern for school bus travel.

SIZZLE YOUR SUPPER ON THE GRILL! LOBLAW "TENDER-AGED" BEEF

Don't miss the fun and delicious good eating you get when you grill out-doors. It's part of summer! And for steaks, the finest you can buy are Loblaw "TENDER AGED" beef steaks. So tender and juicy, real melt-in-your-mouth goodness.

SIMPLE TIPS FOR BETTER GRILLING
Heat coals until good and white. Quickly sear steak on each side to retain juices throughout the grilling. Then lower the fire bed and continue cooking, turning over with tongs until desired degree of doneness is reached. Never pierce steak with a fork. This allows vital juices to escape. To char it, bring the coals up to the meat and flame the steak before serving. Add salt and pepper just before the steak is done.

July Building In City Shows $34,140 Drop

Eighteen construction and remodeling projects estimated to cost $12,245 got under way in East Liverpool in July, a drop of $34,140 from the $46,385 listed in June.

Summertime maintenance and repair work accounted for most of the projects authorized in permits issued by Mayor Bert H. Goodballet's office. June's 23 permits included one $16,000 commercial remodeling job which helped swell the total. The July permits ranged from a low of $75 to a high of $3,000.

Here are last month's permits, the persons to whom they were issued, the work authorized and the estimated costs:

First Assembly of God Church, 986 W. 9th St., to install a new roof and siding, $3,000.

Bill Ash, to remodel a home at 419 Azalea Ave. and erect a porch, $650.

Thighs Require Special Toning Exercise

Ida Jean Kain

"What if anything can be done about the mottled appearance of the upper thighs? Is this a necessary development of middle age or is there an exercise which might help?" Questions about the thighs are asked repeatedly during the summer season.

Special exercise to improve muscle tone and circulation is the answer. Since we inherit the limbs of the family tree, a tendency to thin or fat legs may be part of our heritage, but a mottled appearance can only be caused by poor circulation and toneless muscles. This flabby state is not inevitable in middle age.

With flabby musculature, the thighs are more than apt to be in need of tone, particularly along the inner and outer borders of the thighline. These particular sets of muscles are not used in ordinary routine movements such as standing and walking.

THE FRONT of the thigh is usually fairly firm for these muscles take the action in everyday movements.

Check on the way you routinely do everyday motions. For instance, in rising from a chair, be sure to use the thigh muscles; don't assist with arms, and do not bend forward, hips trailing rearward. Keep back straight, hoist with the thigh muscles. In walking, make sure to point your toes straight ahead, weight toward outer borders.

On the exercise score, it takes an in-and-out-swing of the legs from the hips to reach the muscles along the inner and outer thighline.

Position: Lying on back on floor, arms out on floor at sides, legs straight up in air at right angles with trunk. Have knees straight, toes pulled toward instep.

ACTION: Make wide circles from the hip, keeping knee straight, circle 12 times in one direction, then reverse the circle. Change sides and repeat. While circling, point hard with heel, pulling toes toward instep.

From same position as above, raise top leg about 12 inches, hold, then bring bottom leg up to meet top leg and hold for a slow count of six. Repeat 6 to 8 times. Change sides and repeat.

Blue Shield Sets Medical Plan For Ohioans Over 64

CLEVELAND (AP) — Blue Shield and the Cleveland Academy of Medicine are offering a medical-surgical plan for those 65 and over. It would cost $3.20 a person and $6.20 a family per month.

The details of the plan were announced Tuesday night. Enrollment will start in October.

The plan would give a one-third reduction in fees for those with annual incomes below $4,000. No hospital costs would be covered by this medical insurance. But Blue Cross of Northeastern Ohio said it will offer a hospital contract to match the Blue Shield plan.

According to Eugene L. Martin, executive vice president of Medical Mutual of Northeast Ohio, here is what the Blue Shield plan means:

—One person pays $3.20. All his or her dependents cost another $3 and are covered no matter what their age. But there are no maternity benefits.

—Top fees will be two-thirds of the maximum fees in force for Blue Shield subscribers whose income is $6,000 or under, provided that the income is $4,000 or less. If it is over, the physician may charge above the scheduled academy plan fee.

Blue Shield Sets Medical Plan For Ohioans Over 64

CLEVELAND (AP) — Blue Shield and the Cleveland Academy of Medicine are offering a medical-surgical plan for those 65 and over. It would cost $3.20 a person and $6.20 a family per month.

The details of the plan were announced Tuesday night. Enrollment will start in October.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

Dear Heloise: I graduated from college and, now—eight years, four children and a new home later—I have found that some of the most valuable knowledge does not come from textbooks! Your column offers immediate help to readers, if they would only realize that even the simplest suggestions make our day easier.

I bought one of those little plastic dishwashers (a brush on the end of a squeeze bottle that you fill with detergent and water) and find it great for plates, pans and getting food particles out from between the tines on forks.

When I wash my husband's wash-and-wear white shirts, I do not touch them with the iron. My neighbors did not believe the results until I showed them.

I toss the shirts into my spin-type washer with some other clothes, run them through the full cycle and then dry them completely in the dryer. However, I do take them out of my dryer right away, hang then on the back of a kitchen chair and presto . . . they are ready to wear!

I found when I tried drip-drying these wash-and-wear shirts they needed pressing. The manufacturer does not recommend tumbling them dry, but mine are beautiful.

SHIRLEY MITCHELL

For Mildew Stains

DEAR HELOISE: Does anybody have any idea how to remove mildew stains from rubber mats on sink tops?

MRS. L. V. R.

Take all of your rubber mats and put them in your bathtub or kitchen sink.

Fill your bathtub with about two inches of warm water. Add about one half cup of household bleach. Stir this well. Place all of your mildewed rubber mats in this concoction. Leave for a few hours.

Drain the water from the bathtub and using a little brush-gently brush the mats. I believe you will find all of the mildew has disappeared.

Many people also put one of the new scouring powders which contain bleach on these rubber mats and let them sit for a little while. Then rinse and wash as usual.

HELOISE

To Clean Pans

DEAR HELOISE: I clean my aluminum pans which have become discolored by filling the pan with water above the discoloration, adding a teaspoon of cream of tartar and boiling until the discoloration disappears.

I then pour the water, including the cream of tartar, out of that pan into the next pan to be cleaned, and repeat until all of my pans are shiny. The cream of tartar will leave a white powdery film on the bottom and sides of pans. A scouring pad will remove this and you will find that under the film is a shine that beats all!

Youths Freed In Race Count

Two young men were found not guilty of auto "drag racing" charges Tuesday afternoon by Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff following a lengthy hearing.

The judge acquitted Richard E. Sell, 19, of 708 Wood St., Wellsville, and Bertram Dawson Jr., 22, of 1814 Lisbon St., cited at 12:41 a. m. July 25 on W. 8th St. by Patrolmen Paul Carter and H. W. Bosworth.

The hearing for the two got under way about 11:30 a. m. and continued until 12:45 p. m., as the court decided to continue with the trial rather than halt at the usual time for lunch.

The affidavit, signed by Officer Carter, specifically charged that the two were engaged in a "drag race," a contest of speed generally held in parallel lanes over a measured course. It was filed under a section of state law aimed especially at "drag races" on the highway.

After the two defendants testified that they were not acquainted with each other until after their arrests, the judge commented:

Publisher Dies

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Carson Taylor, 86, founder and publisher of the Manila Daily Bulletin from 1900 until his retirement in 1957, died Tuesday. Taylor served in the Philippines in the Spanish-American War and later became circulation manager of the American, an English-language newspaper in Manila.

Water Leak Blamed On Meter's Removal

A water leak in the basement of a vacant city-owned brick building at E. 2nd and Union Sts. apparently was caused by the removal of a water meter, Safety-Service Director Robert Owen said Tuesday afternoon following an investigation.

The director was summoned to check after an unidentified caller reported the basement of the old building was flooded. The director said he found about two feet of water in the cellar. A gap remained in a pipe where a water meter was removed — apparently by an unauthorized person, the director said. The water was turned off at the curb box.

The city bought the old building about five years ago in order to acquire the lot it occupies, adjacent to a large tract of municipally-owned ground fronting on E. 2nd St.

Teamsters Drop Rebel Locals Suit

CINCINNATI (AP)—The Teamsters Union has pulled out of a Common Pleas Court fight for the funds and records of four rebel locals in Cincinnati.

Judge Louis Schneider agreed Tuesday to dismiss the Teamsters suit seeking custody of the money and records, but ruled the union must pay for court costs.

All but the cab drivers have affiliated with AFL-CIO unions.

The Teamsters in separate action Tuesday filed suit in U.S. District Court seeking $50,000 from Roy J. Eberhart and W. E. Schuh, brother former officers of the Cab Drivers Local, contending they concealed funds and records of the local.

Coast Guard Saves 3 In Lake Erie Mishap

PORT CLINTON, Ohio (AP) — The Coast Guard rescued two men and a boy from Lake Erie Tuesday after they had clung to their capsized boat about 35 minutes. They were J. K. Stratton, 42; Paul A. Lamb, 52, and Malcolm Webster, 15, all of Crestline.

The three were fishing from a 16-foot outboard motorboat about three-quarters of a mile off Lakeside when the boat suddenly started to leak.

Youths Freed In Race Count

Two young men were found not guilty of auto "drag racing" charges Tuesday afternoon by Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff following a lengthy hearing.

The judge acquitted Richard E. Sell, 19, of 708 Wood St., Wellsville, and Bertram Dawson Jr., 22, of 1814 Lisbon St., cited at 12:41 a. m. July 25 on W. 8th St. by Patrolmen Paul Carter and H. W. Bosworth.

The hearing for the two got under way about 11:30 a. m. and continued until 12:45 p. m., as the court decided to continue with the trial rather than halt at the usual time for lunch.

The two officers testified they halted the drivers after observing two cars speeding side by side on W. 8th in West End.

The affidavit, signed by Officer Carter, specifically charged that the two were engaged in a "drag race," a contest of speed generally held in parallel lanes over a measured course. It was filed under a section of state law aimed especially at "drag races" on the highway.

After the two defendants testified that they were not acquainted with each other until after their arrests, the judge commented:

Publisher Dies

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Carson Taylor, 86, founder and publisher of the Manila Daily Bulletin from 1900 until his retirement in 1957, died Tuesday. Taylor served in the Philippines in the Spanish-American War and later became circulation manager of the American, an English-language newspaper in Manila.

Water Leak Blamed On Meter's Removal

A water leak in the basement of a vacant city-owned brick building at E. 2nd and Union Sts. apparently was caused by the removal of a water meter, Safety-Service Director Robert Owen said Tuesday afternoon following an investigation.

The director was summoned to check after an unidentified caller reported the basement of the old building was flooded. The director said he found about two feet of water in the cellar. A gap remained in a pipe where a water meter was removed — apparently by an unauthorized person, the director said. The water was turned off at the curb box.

The city bought the old building about five years ago in order to acquire the lot it occupies, adjacent to a large tract of municipally-owned ground fronting on E. 2nd St.

Teamsters Drop Rebel Locals Suit

CINCINNATI (AP)—The Teamsters Union has pulled out of a Common Pleas Court fight for the funds and records of four rebel locals in Cincinnati.

Judge Louis Schneider agreed Tuesday to dismiss the Teamsters suit seeking custody of the money and records, but ruled the union must pay for court costs.

Attorneys for the rebel group, in turn, agreed not to seek a deposition by Teamster chief James R. Hoffa in the case.

The dairy trucker drivers, soft drink truck drivers, funeral and livery vehicle operators and taxicab drivers voted a year ago to pull out of the Teamsters.

All but the cab drivers have affiliated with AFL-CIO unions.

The Teamsters in separate action Tuesday filed suit in U.S. District Court seeking $50,000 from Roy J. Eberhart and W. E. Schuh, brother former officers of the Cab Drivers Local, contending they concealed funds and records of the local.

Coast Guard Saves 3 In Lake Erie Mishap

PORT CLINTON, Ohio (AP) — The Coast Guard rescued two men and a boy from Lake Erie Tuesday after they had clung to their capsized boat about 35 minutes. They were J. K. Stratton, 42; Paul A. Lamb, 52, and Malcolm Webster, 15, all of Crestline.

The three were fishing from a 16-foot outboard motorboat about three-quarters of a mile off Lakeside when the boat suddenly started to leak.

Isn't TV Listening To Sheriff Newt?

A curious lack of reaction has resulted from Federal Communications Commission Chairman Newton Minow's statement that he believes the FCC has the power to limit the number of commercials on a TV program.

Hal Humphrey

Minow said the Press," it during his recent appearance on "Meet but either no one listens to that program any more or the FCC chairman has lost his power to shake up the industry.

IT'S POSSIBLE Minnow's statement stunned broadcasters, and they are hoping he didn't mean it. Never before has anyone in the FCC even so much as hinted that the number of commercials came under its purvey.

Minow added that the FCC might take the National Association of Broadcasters Code as a basis for action. Here he showed some confusion. The NAB Code says nothing about number of commercials. It asks of its members that no more than four minutes of "commercial material" be included in any 30 minutes of prime-time programming.

The code used to read "three minutes of advertising copy" per half hour of prime time, but the NAB said this did not include things like public service announcements, promotion plugs for other programs on the network, etc.

So, to facilitate things (you see?), the code authors decided to toss all of this "commercial material" into one big happy four minutes.

THE FOUR MINUTES, by the way, does not include another 70 seconds allowed for "station break" time. That is the period between programs. It's for the station to identify itself, and incidentally squeeze in more commercials than a tobacco auctioneer with a third lung can read without taking a breath.

If Chairman Minow is going to enter this arena of pill peddlers and suds sellers, he will have the hearty support of millions of bent-eared TV fans. What he actually needs, however, is an army of dedicated monitors who will watch for infractions.

Generally, the networks try to discourage national sponsors and their ad agencies from dinning us to death with their sales pitches. CBS, for example, refuses to let a half-hour prime-time program be interrupted more than twice (once would be enough), and when a sponsor insists on four commercials, the network puts two of them at either end of the program.

ON MANY local TV channels (either independent or when not hooked to the network), the story is quite different. It is the commercials which are interrupted by the programs.

"We have to sell a lot of commercials to survive!" is the cry from these stations' managers. If that is the case, maybe it is time for Minow and the public to ask, "So? Maybe you shouldn't survive, then?"

Whenever the subject of pay television is raised, advocates of commercial - "free" TV scream, "But the airwaves belong to the people — they shouldn't have to pay for what already is theirs!"

Ah, but who said that the people's airwaves can be sold to whoever wants to peddle a nostrum for hay fever or athlete's foot? Someone must have ruled that it was okay, and no one every has disputed it successfully.

IN THE NAB'S 1962 edition of the code, several new provisions were included on "advertising in relation to children." One of the provisions reads, "Commercials directed to children should in no way mislead as to the product's performance and usefulness."

The rather obvious implication is that if you are over 21, watch out! You're no kid any more, and if TV wants to sell you a gold brick, it's up to you to decide if it's pure gold or plated with orange juice.

Ed Wynn once likened TV to the old traveling medicine show with its cootch dancer, sword-swallower and glib guy who extolled the virtues of Dr. Shank's snake bite remedy.

A sheriff used to be able to scare the medicine show out of town. Now we will see what luck Sheriff Minow has with the billion-dollar Madison Avenue show.

Blue Cross Rates To Be Increased

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP) — Blue Cross announced Tuesday that rates will be 17.8 per cent higher for nearly 300,000 subscribers in a nine-county area starting Sept. 1.

The increases will range from 35 cents to $4 depending on the type of policy and whether the subscriber belongs to a family or is single.

A Blue Cross spokesman attributed the rate hike to higher hospital costs and more patient days in hospitals. The official said the yield from the increase will be $1,060,472.

In 1961, Blue Cross reported a total loss of $90,344 in the nine counties, compared with a $284,032 loss for the first three months this year.

Nearly 14 per cent of all U.S. workers reported in the 1960 census that their place of work was outside the county in which they lived.

Patient Reading Can Accomplish Much

If a parent or teacher inquired about ways of widening the literary interests of a child 10 or 15 years of age, the inquiry hardly would arouse astonishment. But when a mother seriously asks how she might widen the literary interests of her baby girl, 21 months old, so this child will enjoy hearing stories as well as nursery rhymes, the question may strike one as somewhat unusual. Yet it is sensible. Before getting to this problem, the mother writes: "Ive become an interested reader of your column since I discovered you have so many practical and helpful suggestions. My husband and I tried your suggestion about teaching the tot to eat well. We are happy that our vegetable problem — the only trouble we really had—is a thing of the past."

Dr. Garry Meyers

OTHERS WITH a like problem may receive my bulletin, "Eating Problems: Their Prevention and Correction," in a stamped envelope sent me in care of The Review.

"My daughter has been interested in looking at pictures in magazines since she was 10 months old. Last Christmas she received many books but the only ones she's interested in my reading to her are those containing nursery rhymes. She will sit for hours hearing the same rhymes over and over.

"I know it's natural for a child to prefer rhythmic reading at first, but I wonder if I shouldn't be starting with stories. She always chooses the rhymes whenever I agree to read to her."

Somewhat as follows I replied:

Most mothers would be happy if their child so young would listen eagerly to nursery rhymes. Since she enjoys rhythm, why not read to her some of the choice poems from "The Garden of Verses" by Robert Louis Stevenson and from "When We Were Very Young" by A. A. Milne. "Johnny Crow's Garden" by Leslie Brooks is good prose preparation.

Don't be discouraged if your child at first loses interest after you have read a few sentences from such a story. Just put the book away and bring it back later. Then read the same first sentences again and quit again when her interest lags. Always start at the beginning.

I did exactly this with one of our grandchildren when he was 14 months of age and it worked. Gradually he wanted me to read further and further, and finally to the end of the story. It all developed over a period of four days.

Many a little child as old as three or four never has been read to, though he may be very bright. Occasionally the mother will try him a bit but if he does not respond at once she will give up, supposing he may never want to hear her read to him. Many mothers say of such a child, "He won't be still long enough to listen." But he will if tried often enough and patiently enough.

ONCE THIS CHILD begins to listen, he will begin to quiet down quickly and for longer and longer periods. His learning to enjoy listening to stories read may become one of the very best ways to quiet down a jittery youngster and to cultivate poise and concentration in him.

See, too, how precious a story may be to a tot who enjoys it, if he had grown weary, whiny and generally out of sorts. Better than a sleeping pill for a mother can be a story read to a jittery child.

My bulletin "Why Read to Baby and Young Child?" may be had by sending a self - addressed stamped envelope to me in care of The Review.

Jury Visits Prisons

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio Penitentiary here and the Women's Reformatory at Marysville played host to a visiting grand jury Tuesday for the first time in several years. The 16-member Cuyahoga County grand jury made the tour, arranged by its foreman, Cleveland real estate developer Albert Levin.

The United States was the first nation of the Western Hemisphere to become a republic.

Soviets Left A-Tests After Altitude Shot

WASHINGTON (AP)—Four Russian instrument ships which spied on U.S. nuclear tests for weeks in the Pacific steamed away after the 200-mile high shot on July 9, it was disclosed today.

That high altitude test of a hydrogen device over Johnston Island was believed to have given U.S. scientists—and perhaps the Russians — important information on the effects of such a mammoth explosion on communications and radar. Such data is considered vital in developing an antimissile system.

The test also may have given the Russians significant clues on U.S. progress in perfecting nuclear weapons.

It was considered possible that the four Red ships may have been recalled to observe the new series of Russian nuclear tests that the Soviet Union has announced it will undertake.

A disclosure that the snooper fleet had departed came a day after the United States had indicated it would hold further high altitude tests after repairing a launching pad. The launching pad was heavily damaged when a Thor rocket was destroyed July 25.

ON MANY local TV channels (either independent or when not hooked to the network), the story is quite different. It is the commercials which are interrupted by the programs.

"We have to sell a lot of commercials to survive!" is the cry from these stations' managers. If that is the case, maybe it is time for Minow and the public to ask, "So? Maybe you shouldn't survive, then?"

Whenever the subject of pay television is raised, advocates of commercial - "free" TV scream, "But the airwaves belong to the people — they shouldn't have to pay for what already is theirs!"

Ah, but who said that the people's airwaves can be sold to whoever wants to peddle a nostrum for hay fever or athlete's foot? Someone must have ruled that it was okay, and no one every has disputed it successfully.

IN THE NAB'S 1962 edition of the code, several new provisions were included on "advertising in relation to children." One of the provisions reads, "Commercials directed to children should in no way mislead as to the product's performance and usefulness."

The rather obvious implication is that if you are over 21, watch out! You're no kid any more, and if TV wants to sell you a gold brick, it's up to you to decide if it's pure gold or plated with orange juice.

Ed Wynn once likened TV to the old traveling medicine show with its cootch dancer, sword-swallower and glib guy who extolled the virtues of Dr. Shank's snake bite remedy.

A sheriff used to be able to scare the medicine show out of town. Now we will see what luck Sheriff Minow has with the billion-dollar Madison Avenue show.

Blue Cross Rates To Be Increased

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP) — Blue Cross announced Tuesday that rates will be 17.8 per cent higher for nearly 300,000 subscribers in a nine-county area starting Sept. 1.

The increases will range from 35 cents to $4 depending on the type of policy and whether he subscriber belongs to a family or is single.

A Blue Cross spokesman attributed the rate hike to higher hospital costs and more patient days in hospitals. The official said the yield from the increase will be $1,060,472.

In 1961, Blue Cross reported a total loss of $90,344 in the nine counties, compared with a $284,032 loss for the first three months this year.

Nearly 14 per cent of all U.S. workers reported in the 1960 census that their place of work was outside the county in which they lived.

Bringing Up A Family

By GARRY C. MEYERS

Patient Reading Can Accomplish Much

If a parent or teacher inquired about ways of widening the literary interests of a child 10 or 15 years of age, the inquiry hardly would arouse astonishment. But when a mother seriously asks how she might widen the literary interests of her baby girl, 21 months old, so this child will enjoy hearing stories as well as nursery rhymes, the question may strike one as somewhat unusual. Yet it is sensible. Before getting to this problem, the mother writes: "Ive become an interested reader of your column since I discovered you have so many practical and helpful suggestions. My husband and I tried your suggestion about teaching the tot to eat well. We are happy that our vegetable problem — the only trouble we really had—is a thing of the past."

OTHERS WITH a like problem may receive my bulletin, "Eating Problems: Their Prevention and Correction," in a stamped envelope sent me in care of The Review.

"My daughter has been interested in looking at pictures in magazines since she was 10 months old. Last Christmas she received many books but the only ones she's interested in my reading to her are those containing nursery rhymes. She will sit for hours hearing the same rhymes over and over.

"I know it's natural for a child to prefer rhythmic reading at first, but I wonder if I shouldn't be starting with stories. She always chooses the rhymes whenever I agree to read to her."

Somewhat as follows I replied:

Most mothers would be happy if their child so young would listen eagerly to nursery rhymes. Since she enjoys rhythm, why not read to her some of the choice poems from "The Garden of Verses" by Robert Louis Stevenson and from "When We Were Very Young" by A. A. Milne. "Johnny Crow's Garden" by Leslie Brooks is good prose preparation.

Don't be discouraged if your child at first loses interest after you have read a few sentences from such a story. Just put the book away and bring it back later. Then read the same first sentences again and quit again when her interest lags. Always start at the beginning.

I did exactly this with one of our grandchildren when he was 14 months of age and it worked. Gradually he wanted me to read further and further, and finally to the end of the story. It all developed over a period of four days.

Many a little child as old as three or four never has been read to, though he may be very bright. Occasionally the mother will try him a bit but if he does not respond at once she will give up, supposing he may never want to hear her read to him. Many mothers say of such a child, "He won't be still long enough to listen." But he will if tried often enough and patiently enough.

ONCE THIS CHILD begins to listen, he will begin to quiet down quickly and for longer and longer periods. His learning to enjoy listening to stories read may become one of the very best ways to quiet down a jittery youngster and to cultivate poise and concentration in him.

See, too, how precious a story may be to a tot who enjoys it, if he had grown weary, whiny and generally out of sorts. Better than a sleeping pill for a mother can be a story read to a jittery child.

My bulletin "Why Read to Baby and Young Child?" may be had by sending a self - addressed stamped envelope to me in care of The Review.

Jury Visits Prisons

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio Penitentiary here and the Women's Reformatory at Marysville played host to a visiting grand jury Tuesday for the first time in several years. The 16-member Cuyahoga County grand jury made the tour, arranged by its foreman, Cleveland real estate developer Albert Levin.

The United States was the first nation of the Western Hemisphere to become a republic.

Soviets Left A-Tests After Altitude Shot

WASHINGTON (AP)—Four Russian instrument ships which spied on U.S. nuclear tests for weeks in the Pacific steamed away after the 200-mile high shot on July 9, it was disclosed today.

That high altitude test of a hydrogen device over Johnston Island was believed to have given U.S. scientists—and perhaps the Russians — important information on the effects of such a mammoth explosion on communications and radar. Such data is considered vital in developing an antimissile system.

The test also may have given the Russians significant clues on U.S. progress in perfecting nuclear weapons.

It was considered possible that the four Red ships may have been recalled to observe the new series of Russian nuclear tests that the Soviet Union has announced it will undertake.

A disclosure that the snooper fleet had departed came a day after the United States had indicated it would hold further high altitude tests after repairing a launching pad. The launching pad was heavily damaged when a Thor rocket was destroyed July 25.

ROBERT STROUD, AMERICAN
He is a convict; yet, in his achievement, in his fierce independence—he reflects the ideals of the country whose laws he shattered. For 43 years this amazing man was kept in solitary confinement. He did not break bread with another human being. He did not see an airplane on the ground nor sit behind the wheel of an automobile. He did not see a television set. No newspaper or radio broadcasts reached him. But they have not been able to break this man. They have yet to bring him to his knees or blackout the fantastic brain that worked a miracle. To this day he is unbeaten, unbowed, unconquered. They call him "The Bird Man"—and he is the most defiant man alive.

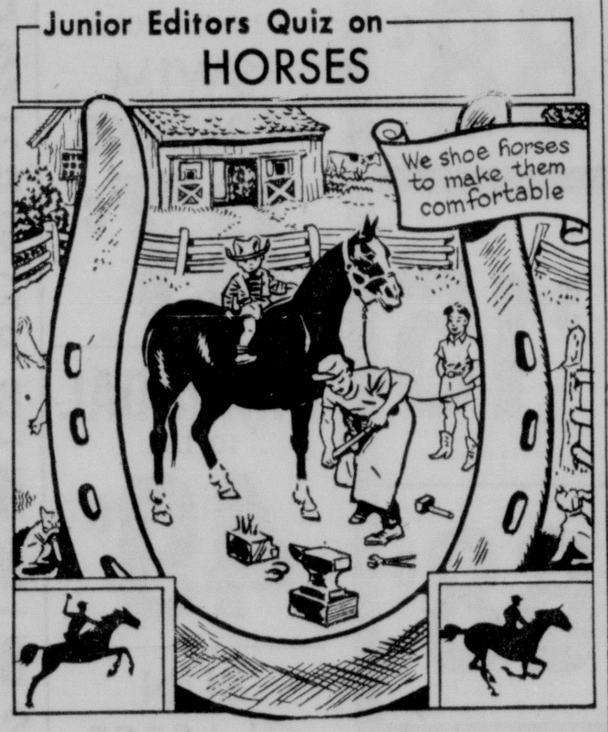
Junior Editors Quiz on HORSES



QUESTION: Does it hurt horses to drive nails through their feet?

ANSWER: Man has always prized the faithful, intelligent horse, which has been such a hard-working servant and such a good friend. Horses have had an important part in advancing civilization. Probably the most important part of caring for a horse is by paying attention to his feet. The big, horny hoof is what gives the horse a grip on the ground and helps him to run so fast. But, exactly as our fingernails are always growing, a horse's hoof is always growing. If it were running wild, its hoof would wear down evenly. But the strain of a working horse puts on its hooves would crack them if they were unprotected, and this would be very uncomfortable for the horse. Iron shoes, put in place by the horseshoer, protect the horse's feet. Horseshoers are careful to file the horn down evenly so that the horse's weight comes equally on all four feet. Driving nails in the hooves to hold on the shoes does not hurt the horse any more than it hurts you when you trim your nails, for hooves and fingernails are made of the same kind of material.

FOR YOU TO DO: All horses are fun to draw, but especially those in fast action. Try enlarging the two little pictures at the bottom so you can understand what the legs look like when a horse moves fast. Both pictures were taken from photographs of galloping horses.

★ ★ ★

Peggy Kindle of Alderpoint, Calif., wins $10 for this question. Mail yours on a postcard to Junior Editors in care of The Review.

QUESTION: Does it hurt horses to drive nails through their feet?

ANSWER: Man has always prized the faithful, intelligent horse, which has been such a hard-working servant and such a good friend. Horses have had an important part in advancing civilization. Probably the most important part of caring for a horse is by paying attention to his feet. The big, horny hoof is what gives the horse a grip on the ground and helps him to run so fast. But, exactly as our fingernails are always growing, a horse's hoof is always growing. If it were running wild, its hoof would wear down evenly. But the strain of a working horse puts on its hooves would crack them if they were unprotected, and this would be very uncomfortable for the horse. Iron shoes, put in place by the horseshoer, protect the horse's feet. Horseshoers are careful to file the horn down evenly so that the horse's weight comes equally on all four feet. Driving nails in the hooves to hold on the shoes does not hurt the horse any more than it hurts you when you trim your nails, for hooves and fingernails are made of the same kind of material.

FOR YOU TO DO: All horses are fun to draw, but especially those in fast action. Try enlarging the two little pictures at the bottom so you can understand what the legs look like when a horse moves fast. Both pictures were taken from photographs of galloping horses.
